ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This publication was prepared by the Occupational and Career Information Branch, Employment and Immigration Canada, under the direction of L.G. Dixon, Director General.

The planning, coordination and processing of this publication was undertaken by G.D. Robertson, Chief – Operations Division, in conjunction with staff members L. Dallaire, L. Marshall, M-C. McHugh, and J. Zenko.

Employment and Immigration Canada also wishes to acknowledge the contributions of the many business firms, associations, labour organizations, other government agencies, and individuals who contributed, directly or indirectly, to the publication of this document.

SPECIAL NOTICE

In determining the data for inclusion in CCDO publications, many thousands of jobs were examined and analyzed to determine their content. No facts were collected, however, on such matters as hours of labour, wages or salaries, or other related employment practices.

As the content of specific jobs varies with each individual establishment, most of the occupational definitions describe the work performed in broad terms. For these reasons, the data in this publication cannot be considered as standards for setting working conditions, pay scales or related employment conditions, and Employment and Immigration Canada accepts no responsibility for the setting of these or other jurisdictional matters.

It is to be noted that the presence or absence of Physical Activities (PA) factors in a CCDO occupational description is not to be misconstrued as indicating that the physically handicapped can or cannot perform the duties of that occupation.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The Canadian Classification and Dictionary of Occupations (CCDO) has experienced major changes in format since VOLUME I was originally published in 1971. This information is now available in a series of softcovered booklets that update fourteen (14) of the twenty-three (23) Major Groups in the CCDO. The seven (7) booklets listed below constitute a complete set of CCDO materials.

1. 1971 REPRINT BOOKLET (YELLOW)

This booklet is strictly a reprint of occupational groups from VOLUME I that have not been revised.

MAJOR GROUPS

- 11 — Managerial, Administrative and Related Occupations
- 21 — Occupations in Natural Sciences, Engineering and Mathematics
- 33 — Artistic, Literary, Performing Arts and Related Occupations
- 37 — Occupations in Sport and Recreation
- 41 — Clerical and Related Occupations
- 51 — Sales Occupations
- 81/82 — Processing Occupations
- 83 — Machining and Related Occupations
- 85 — Product Fabricating, Assembling and Related Occupations

2. 1977 BOOKLET (GREEN)

MAJOR GROUP

- 87 — Construction Occupations

3. 1978 BOOKLET (BLUE)

MAJOR GROUP

- 61 — Service Occupations

4. 1978 BOOKLET (PURPLE)

MAJOR GROUPS

- 71 — Farming, Horticulture and Animal Husbandry
- 73 — Fishing and Trapping
- 75 — Forestry and Logging
- 77 — Mining and Quarrying including Oil and Gas

5. 1980 BOOKLET (BROWN)

MAJOR GROUPS

- 23 — Social Sciences
- 25 — Religion
- 27 — Teaching
- 31 — Medicine and Health

6. 1986 BOOKLET (BLACK)

MAJOR GROUPS

- 91 — Transport Equipment Operating Occupations
- 93 — Material Handling and Related Occupations, n.e.c.
- 95 — Other Crafts and Equipment Operating Occupations
- 99 — Occupations Not Classified Elsewhere

7. 1989 CCDO GUIDE (Ninth edition)

RED

This annual publication must be used in conjunction with all other CCDO publications as it contains the only complete index of all 30,000 CCDO job and occupational titles. The GUIDE is also used to publish new CCDO occupational descriptions.

INTRODUCTION SECTION

THE CLASSIFICATION STRUCTURE

The CCDO is a systematic and comprehensive arrangement of occupational descriptions reflecting the work performed by the Canadian people. These descriptions represent a summary of the significant activities of a number of similar jobs that may be found in different establishments or industries. The significant duties, or the “kind of work performed”, act as the basic principle for classifying occupations.

The classification structure consists of four levels of occupational categorization, each providing successively finer detail:

1. The Major Group
2. The Minor Group
3. The Unit Group
4. The Individual Occupations

In the classification structure, there are 23 Major Groups which represent occupations identified only on a very broad basis. Each Major Group has a two-digit code number, a title, and a definition which summarizes the occupational activities in the group.

The Major Groups are subdivided into 81 Minor Groups, each with distinguishing characteristics. Each Minor Group has a three-digit code number, a title, and a summarizing definition which may contain notes required to explain unusual factors.

The third level of aggregation is comprised of 499 Unit Groups, which represent a collection of more closely-related occupations. Unit Groups have a four-digit code number, a title, and a definition. Unit Group definitions conform to the same pattern as those of the Major and Minor Groups, but are more specific in their description of occupational activity.

Finally, the Unit Groups are broken down into individual, unique occupations (some 7,700 in the 1988 CCDO), an occupation being the narrowest category specifically identified in the classification system. An individual occupation is identified by a seven-digit code number and a title, such as 8784-114 PLASTERER. The last three digits (-114), called the terminal digits, provide the unique code number within the classification structure for each occupation. Terminal digits also determine the sequence of occupations within a Unit Group, for occupations are normally arranged in a descending order of complexity as determined by training time requirements. Terminal digits begin with (-110), and are normally spaced in increments of two or more to allow for the future inclusion of additional occupations.

While classification into Major, Minor or Unit Groups is usually based on a similarity of work performed, supplementary criteria are also used to further clarify the nature of the work performed.

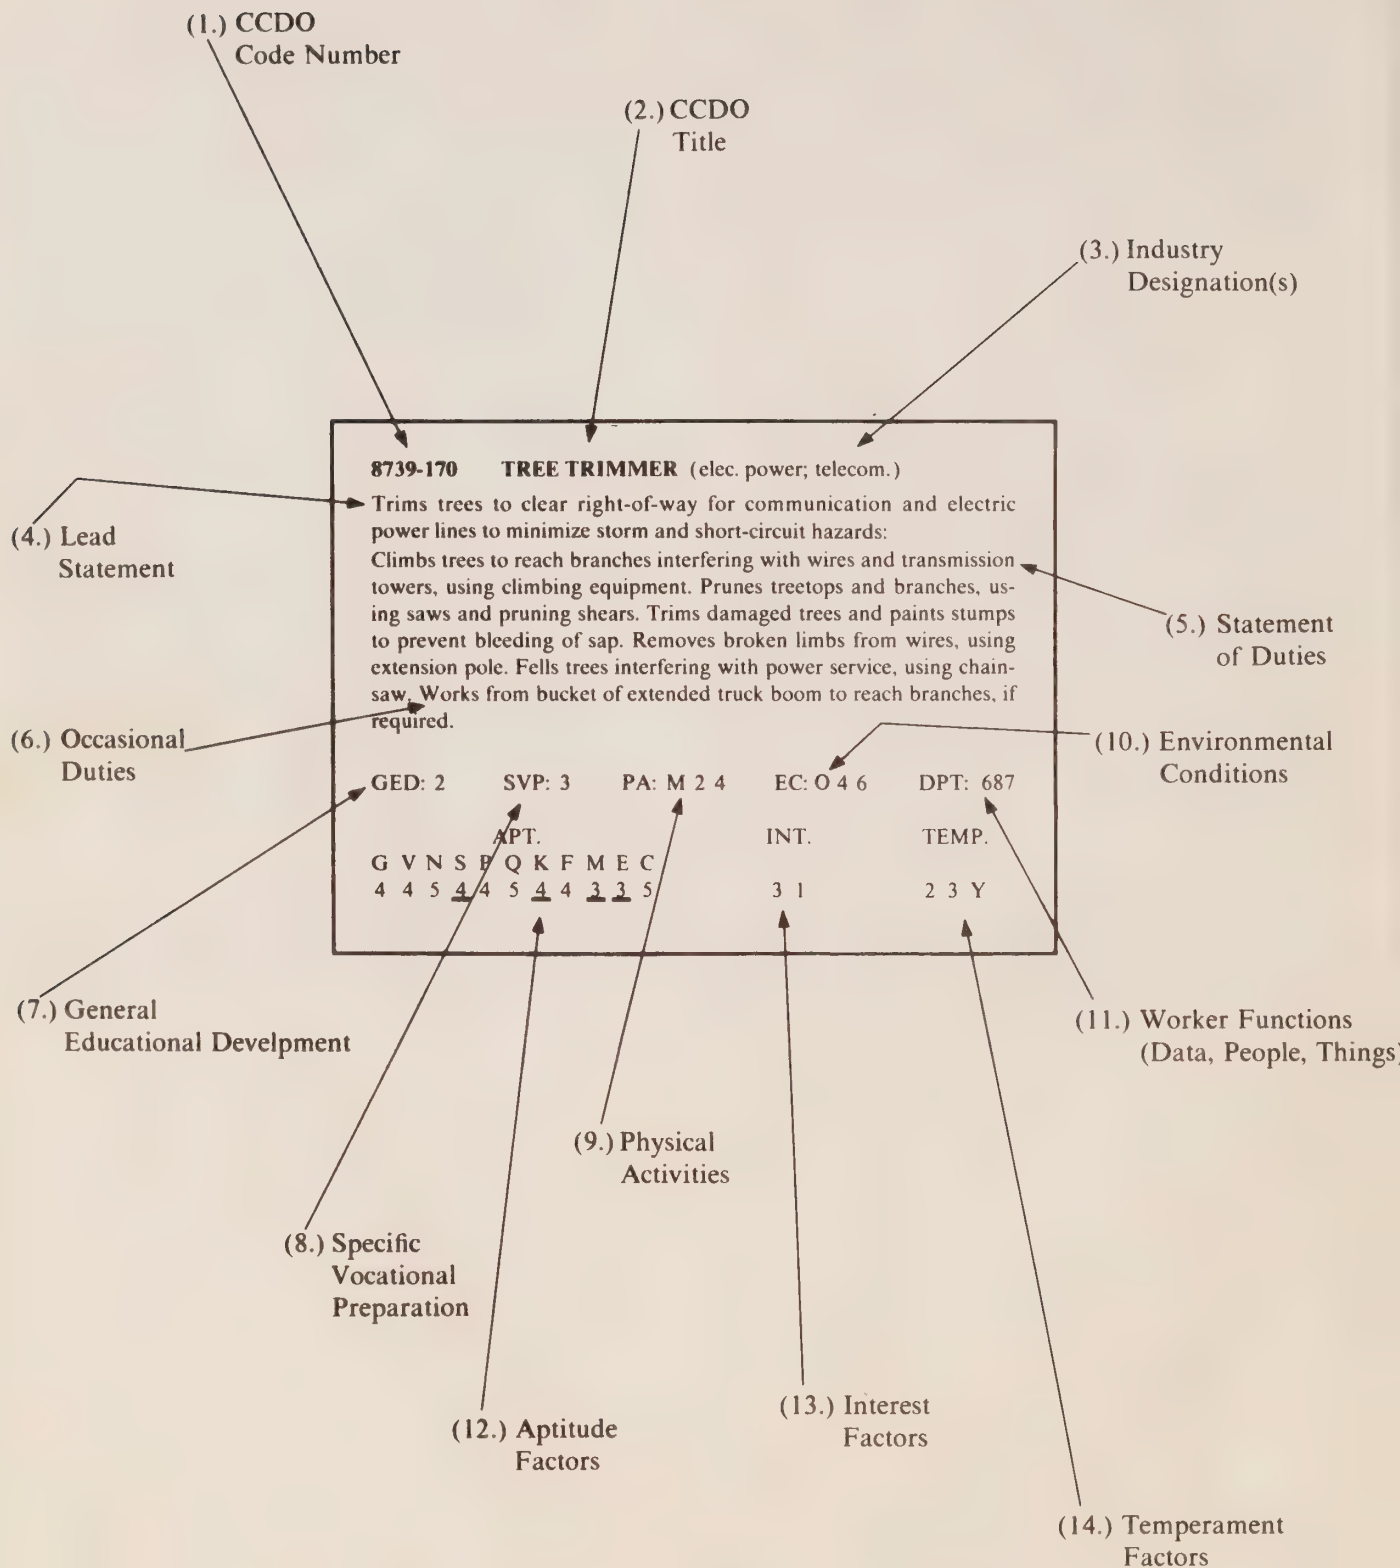

Similarity of services provided, or the assembly and repair of similar articles are frequently used to aid in classifying occupational activity. Occupations may be grouped according to subject matter, as are chemists, because the work is complementary, as is the case with doctors and nurses, or because their functions are closely related. Other occupations are differentiated largely by the complexity of the work, or by the degree of responsibility involved, such as managers, foremen/women, supervisors and the like. Processes involved, materials used or produced, and equipment used are further illustrations of the criteria used to determine the classification structure.

THE CCDO OCCUPATIONAL DESCRIPTION

The term “occupation” refers to a number of jobs which have the same basic work content, even though the duties may vary somewhat, and though they may be found in different establishments or industries. To clarify this, the occupational descriptions in the CCDO consist of a number of different components which collectively provide a realistic representation of the essential nature of the occupation. An actual CCDO occupational description, in which each component has been numbered and labelled, appears on the following page.

THE CCDO OCCUPATIONAL DESCRIPTION

NOTE: Information concerning components of this occupational description follows.

- (1) The CCDO Code Number The full seven-digit code number (8739-170) indicates the exact location of the occupation within the classification structure.
- (2) The CCDO Title This is the title by which the occupation is most commonly known in Canada, or which is most descriptive of the occupation. Called the "CCDO Title", it may occasionally assume an inverted form, such as trimmer, tree. To ensure easy access to the occupational description corresponding to a known occupational title, one can use either the Index accompanying this GUIDE, or the smaller Index provided with each Major Group book.
- (3) The Industry Designation(s) for an occupation appear in abbreviated form in brackets immediately following the CCDO title. The use of industry designations helps to differentiate between occupations with the same title, but with different occupational activity. In addition, most industry designations offer further occupational information by indicating the type of economic activity in which the occupation is found. Should an occupation have two or three industry designations, they will be listed in alphabetical order following the CCDO title. If an occupation has four or more industry designations, the designation used is any industry (any ind.).
- (4) The Lead Statement is a concise description of the nature and purpose of the occupation. It describes the principal duties of the worker, and gives a general indication of how the occupation differs from other occupations.
- (5) The Statement of Duties is necessarily a broad description of the nature and scope of the work involved. This description will not always coincide exactly with the duties required in every job situation, but it does indicate, either directly or by inference, what the workers normally do, how, and why they do it.
- (6) Occasional Duties are normally described at the end of the statement of duties, and are identified through the use of a "may clause" or an "if required" clause.
- (7) General Educational Development (GED) embraces those aspects of education (both formal and informal) which contribute to a worker's reasoning development, the ability to follow instructions, and the acquisition of such tool knowledge as mathematical and language skills. The GED level required by an occupation can be numerically expressed according to an approximate duration of formal schooling, according to the following table:

GED Levels	Approximate Duration of Schooling
6	17 years plus
5	13 to 16 years
4	11 to 12 years
3	9 to 10 years
2	6 to 8 years
1	Less than 6 years

A complete explanation of GED is included in Appendix A of the CCDO GUIDE.

When interpreting the GED level, it must be remembered that informal educative aspects such as previous work experiences, self-study, travelling, and such avocational pursuits as hobbies and leisure activities must also be considered, if it is to be occupationally significant. The GED levels given in the CCDO are not absolute: they must be regarded only as a guide to the approximate level required to attain average, satisfactory work performance.

- (8) Specific Vocational Preparation (SVP) is an expression of the time required to learn the techniques and skills needed for satisfactory performance in an occupation. SVP and GED are separate, although related factors, which are interdependent in their functions: both must be considered in determining the training time requirements of a given occupation. SVP does not include the time required for orientation of a worker to a new job for which he/she is fully qualified. However, it does include any specific preparation which is occupationally significant, whether it is acquired through universities, vocational schools, apprenticeship, on-the-job training, or previous work experience.

Appendix B of the CCDO GUIDE explains the various numerical levels used to express SVP. The various forms of Specific Vocational Preparation are also described.

- (9) Physical Activities The physical activities designation (PA) is used to indicate the significant physical demands placed on a worker by an occupation. A detailed explanation of the terms used in assigning the PA designation can be found in Appendix D of the CCDO GUIDE.

Please note that the presence or absence of Physical Activities (PA) factors in a CCDO occupational definition is not to be misconstrued as indicating that the physically handicapped can or cannot perform the duties of that occupation.

- (10) Environmental Conditions The environmental conditions designation (EC) is used to indicate the significant physical surroundings of a worker. Because each individual occupation is governed by a unique set of circumstances, a thorough knowledge of both PA and EC ratings is vital in order to accommodate the possible physical limitations of a worker. A complete description of the various factors which govern EC ratings can be found in Appendix C of the CCDO GUIDE.
- (11) Worker Functions This designation provides a standard terminology for use in summarizing what a worker does on the job. It is based on the premise that every worker is required to function in relation to Data, People, and Things (DPT) at various levels. The functional relationships are expressed by means of verbs descriptive of the basic occupational activity, and fall into three broad categories of approximately descending complexity. A complete explanation of the verbs used to express the DPT relationship is given in Appendix E of the CCDO GUIDE.
- (12) Aptitude Factors The CCDO defines aptitudes as the specific capacity or potentiality of an individual required in order to facilitate the learning of the skills needed for a task or job duties. Eleven aptitude factors are used, each one having a numerical rating which expresses the level achieved by a corresponding percentage of the working population:

1. Upper 10%
2. Upper third exclusive of the highest 10%
3. Middle third
4. Lowest third exclusive of the lowest 10%
5. Lowest 10%

When these levels are underscored, as in 44544544335, they are considered to be significant for satisfactory job performance.

Definitions of the eleven aptitude factors are provided in Appendix F of this GUIDE.

- (13) Interest Factors are regarded as being significant qualification requirements of an occupation, for numerous studies have illustrated a strong correlation between job satisfaction, performance, and a positive interest in the job. For CCDO purposes, an interest is defined as a tendency to become absorbed in an experience through concern in or attraction for certain types of work experiences or activities. There are five pairs of factors used to rate interest, grouped so that a positive concern for one factor of a pair will usually result in rejection of the other factor of that pair.

Interest factor definitions are provided in Appendix F of this Guide.

- (14) Temperament Factors Complementing the interest factor ratings, and designed to be used in conjunction with them, are ratings of temperament. The CCDO defines temperament as being those personality qualities which remain fairly constant, and which reveal a person's characteristic response in terms of a preference, inclination or disposition. Temperament traits are evaluated through the use of twelve factors which are defined in terms of actual work situations. Taken singly or in any combination, they produce a temperament profile indicative of the qualities and adjustments required of a worker by a given occupation.

Definitions of the twelve temperament factors are provided in Appendix F.

SPECIAL GROUPING PROCEDURES

For various reasons, it is not always possible to provide a group with appropriate homogeneity for all occupations which must be classified. Several different residual groups have been created to accommodate those occupations which cannot be satisfactorily classified in other groups of the structure. These residual groups are:

1. Residual Major Group 99
2. Residual Minor Groups
3. Residual Unit Groups
4. Seven-Digit Residual Groups
5. Special Unit Groups
6. Special n.e.c. Groups

1. Residual Major Group 99 Major Group 99 — OCCUPATIONS NOT ELSEWHERE CLASSIFIED enjoys the dual distinction of being the only residual Major Group, as well as being the last Major Group in the CCDO. It is used to classify those occupations which cannot be properly classified in any other Major Group of the structure. It is also used to classify occupations having duties which are classifiable in more than one Major Group.
2. Residual Minor Groups Residual Minor Groups, of which there are only about a dozen in the whole of the CCDO, enable classification of two types of occupations:
 - (a) Occupations which, although belonging in the same Major Group, cannot be classified in one of its other Minor Groups;
 - (b) Occupations whose duties are pertinent to more than one Minor Group.

With few exceptions, a Residual Minor Group has a three-digit code number, composed of its Major Group code number and ending in the digit "9". The group title of a Residual Minor Group is identical to that of its Major Group, but is preceded by the word "Other": for example, Residual Minor Group 239 — OTHER OCCUPATIONS IN SOCIAL SCIENCES AND RELATED FIELDS.

3. Residual Unit Groups are the obvious extension of Residual Minor Groups. They serve the same function of further classifying those occupations which belong in the same Minor Group, but cannot be classified in one of its other Unit Groups. Similarly, they provide for classification of those occupations whose duties are pertinent to more than one of these Unit Groups. A Residual Unit Group can be identified by a four-digit code number which ends in "9".

Its title is the same as that of the Minor Group, with the added notation "n.e.c.", meaning "not elsewhere classified". An example of a Residual Unit Group is 2399 — OTHER OCCUPATIONS IN SOCIAL SCIENCES AND RELATED FIELDS, N.E.C.

4. Seven-Digit Residual Groups The Seven-Digit Residual Group title and definition is a device used to provide an appropriate location in which users can temporarily classify new or emerging occupations, prior to their formal inclusion in the classification structure. The code number for a Seven-Digit Residual Group always ends in "99", and its title will usually consist of the word "OTHER", followed by the title of its Unit Group; for example, 8793-199 OTHER STRUCTURAL METAL ERECTORS. Because it relates to more than one occupation, a Seven-Digit Residual Group title does not have an industry designation, nor is it assigned occupational characteristics (GED, SVP, PA, EC, DPT). When this type of title and definition is used, it will always appear as the last one in its Unit Group.
5. Special Unit Groups There are three groups of occupations which have been given special treatment at the unit level of aggregation, although strictly speaking they are not "residual" groups. Like a Residual Group, however, each of these three groups can be readily identified by a unique code number:
 - (a) Supervisors and Foremen/women Unit Groups have a four-digit code number ending in "0", such as Unit Group 8260 — FOREMAN/WOMAN, TEXTILE PROCESSING OCCUPATIONS.
 - (b) Inspectors, Testers, Graders and Samplers Unit Groups have a four-digit code number ending in "6", as in Unit Group 7516 — LOG INSPECTING, GRADING, SCALING AND RELATED OCCUPATIONS.
 - (c) Labourers and Other Elemental Workers Unit Groups can be easily identified by a unique four-digit code number ending in "8"; for example, Unit Group 8148 — OCCUPATIONS IN LABOURING AND OTHER ELEMENTAL WORK, METAL PROCESSING.
6. Special n.e.c. Groups There are certain Minor and Unit Groups with the designation "n.e.c." included in their title, but which do not have a code number ending in "9"; for example, Unit Group 8395 — PATTERNMAKERS AND MOULDMAKERS, N.E.C. The n.e.c. designation is included to indicate that Unit Group 8395 is not the only group for workers who make patterns and moulds.

There is one further type of group used in the CCDO. This is the Sub-Group, which stands somewhat apart as being neither a Major, Minor or Unit Group, nor a Residual Group. In some instances, it proves useful to arrange occupations that could logically be grouped together into Sub-Groups within the Unit Group. Sub-Groups have descriptive titles, and while they indicate the range of occupational code numbers contained, they are neither separately numbered nor defined. An example of sub-grouping can be found within Unit Group 8215 — SLAUGHTERING AND MEAT CUTTING, CANNING, CURING AND PACKING OPERATIONS. This Unit Group has three Sub-Groups of related occupations, arranged as usual in a descending order of complexity as determined by training time requirements:

1. Slaughtering and Meat Cutting Occupations

8215-110 through 8215-178

2. Meat Preparing, Preserving and Packing Occupations

8215-198 through 8215-310

3. Edible and Inedible By-Products Processing Occupations

8215-330 through 8215-362

It will be noted that an interval of twenty is provided between CCDO sub-group code numbers, to allow for future occupational developments: 8215-178 to 8215-198; 8215-310 to 8215-330.

TYPES OF OCCUPATIONAL TITLES

An occupational title represents, in a word or phrase, what people do for a living, the activity in which they are engaged, their principal business, calling, pursuit or employment. Obviously, brevity and clarity are major determining factors of a useful occupational title. To assist in the expression of occupational activity in a concise but meaningful form, a number of different types of titles have been used in the CCDO:

1. The CCDO Title
2. Additional Titles
3. The Seven-Digit Residual Group Title
4. The Master Title
5. The Term Title
6. The General Title

1. The CCDO Title The occupational title accompanying each description is the CCDO Title, which is the title having the most common usage, or which is most descriptive of the work activity. It identifies the type of work described in the occupational description, and is printed in bold-face, upper-case font, preceded by the CCDO Code Number, and followed by the appropriate industry designation(s):

8715-150 TRACK PATROLLER (rail trans.)

The CCDO Title is located in the Alphabetical Index to each Major Group book, as well as in the CCDO Index which forms a part of this GUIDE.

2. Additional Titles are simply other titles by which an occupation may be known, and are provided to assist in the identification and location of an occupation. This proves useful for those occupations which are known by different names in different parts of the country, or which are found in a number of industries. An Additional Title may also be supplied to reflect a more specific work situation than that expressed by the CCDO Title. For example, by referring to the alphabetical indices it can be seen that burglar-alarm servicer and fire-alarm servicer are Additional Titles to the CCDO Title 8735-142 PROTECTIVE-SIGNAL SERVICER (telecom.). Note that Additional Titles are printed in bold-face, lower-case font, and appear with a seven-digit code number and industry designation:

8715-150 track walker (rail trans.)

3. The Seven-Digit Residual Group Title is not a true occupational title, nor has it been assigned occupational characteristics. However, it has been assigned its own unique code number, and it differs from the CCDO Title by being prefaced with the word "OTHER", and by not having an industry designation. The Seven-Digit Residual Group Title is printed in the same script as is the CCDO

Title: 8793-199 OTHER STRUCTURAL METAL ERECTORS.

4. The Master Title Each Master Title has a definition describing duties which are common to a relatively large number of occupations. Reference to a Master Title in an occupational description or Unit Group definition therefore eliminates constant repetition, and so serves as a single source of information for specific occupations with common work elements or duties. Since a Master Title is not in itself a unique occupation, but rather describes duties that are common to a number of different jobs or disciplines, the usual seven-digit occupational code number has been replaced by a five-digit identification number: for example, 01-250 SUPERVISOR; FOREMAN-WOMAN (any ind.). The initial digits (01-) designate a Master Title, and the terminal digits (-250) place the title within the alphabetical classification system of Master Titles. Master Titles, together with their definitions, industry designations and code numbers are included in each Major Group book.
5. The Term Title Each Term Title has a definition describing such factors as work performed or conditions which are common to occupations having the same generic title, such as "Assistant" or "Helper". Reference to a Term Title in an occupational description enables the reader to view the relationship between the defined occupation and other occupations which share the same generic title. Each occupational description that refers to a Term Title definition is complete in itself, but the information contained in the Term Title definition provides useful supplementary information.

Refer to the occupational description for 8799-262 FLOOR-COVERER HELPER (construction), and it will be noticed that the last sentence of the statement of duties makes reference to 02-160 HELPER (any ind.). Like the Master Title, a Term Title is assigned an industry designation, and it has its own five-digit identification number beginning with (02-). Once again, the terminal digits (-160) are used to place the title within the alphabetical classification system of Term Titles. Term Titles, together with their definitions, industry designations and code numbers are included in each Major Group book.

As a word of caution, if a Unit Group definition refers to a Term Title, then it is not referred to in the occupational description itself. It is important to read the Unit Group definition first, before proceeding to the occupational descriptions.

6. The General Title may be given to an occupation in which a worker performs duties common to a number of occupational specialties. The word GENERAL appears in the title for all general definitions; however, use of this word in titles is not limited to this application; for example, 3131-130 NURSE, GENERAL DUTY (medical) is not a general title. General titles have an industry designation and a code number, and are given the same occupational characteristics coding as CCDO titles. When a general title is used in conjunction with a series of CCDO definitions, the definitions of each of these titles includes a reference, immediately following the lead statement, to the duties as described in the general title definition; for example, refer to 2143-122 AIRPORT ENGINEER (prof. & tech., n.e.c.) in CCDO.

SPECIAL OCCUPATIONAL CATEGORIES

For a number of reasons, it proved advantageous to give particular treatment in the classification structure to certain groups of occupations:

1. Managerial Occupations
 2. Supervisors and Foremen/women Occupations
 3. Technologist and Technician Occupations
 4. Inspecting, Testing, Grading and Sampling Occupations, and Regulatory Occupations
 5. Labourer/Elemental Worker Occupations
 6. Other Special Occupational Categories
1. Managerial Occupations Managerial occupations have been given special consideration largely because of the ambiguous nature of the title "manager", a term which can be applied to occupations with duties so dissimilar in nature as to have little meaning within the context of the CCDO. For example, the "manager" of a little corner store has little occupational activity common to the "manager" of a nationwide chain of stores. Moreover, the use of such titles as "general manager", "superintendent", and "director" further complicates the distinct identification of managerial occupations. For this reason, managerial occupations will usually fall into one of four broad categories:
- (a) General Managers
 - (b) Departmental and Related Managers
 - (c) Supervisors and Foremen/women
 - (d) Managers of Wholesale, Retail and Service Establishments
- (a) The General Managers represent senior management, and are responsible for planning, organizing, staffing, directing and controlling the functions of an organization. Since they make policy and co-ordinate the activities of various departments, they are, in essence, the managers' manager.
- (b) Departmental and Related Managers The managers of a department, a regional office, or a project are representative of middle management. They report to and receive their instructions from the general manager, and will usually administer their operations through subordinate managers or supervisors. Managers at the departmental level are usually involved in activities related to a number of Major and Minor Groups of occupations. Therefore, a special Major Group was created for the classification of these managerial occupations. Within this Major Group (Major Group 11), managerial occupations which are unique to government are separated from other managerial occupations. It was also necessary to provide for the classification of occupations which are directly related to management. Thus, this Major Group has three Minor Groups:

111 OFFICIALS AND ADMINISTRATORS UNIQUE TO GOVERNMENT

113/114 OTHER MANAGERS AND ADMINISTRATORS

117 OCCUPATIONS RELATED TO MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

- (c) Supervisors and Foremen/women In large organizations, neither the general manager nor the departmental managers directly supervise the activities of workers. This is normally the responsibility of the supervisors or foremen/women, who represent the first level of line management. Occupations which are identified as foremen/women and supervisory occupations, including managing supervisors, are normally classified in special Unit Groups in the same Minor Groups as the workers whom they supervise. These special Unit Groups can be identified by four-digit code numbers ending in "0".
- (d) Managers of Wholesale, Retail and Service Establishments which are not departmentalized normally perform duties similar to those of supervisors; however, they have important additional responsibilities in such areas as planning and financing. These occupations are designated as MANAGING SUPERVISORS, and are classified with supervisors (in the appropriate Unit Groups) of Major Groups 51 - SALES OCCUPATIONS and 61 - SERVICE OCCUPATIONS. The expression "managing supervisor" is used to refer to occupations which are not managerial in the sense described in the definition for the Master Title 01-170 MANAGER (prof. & tech., n.e.c.), but which have duties and responsibilities that include those of a supervisor and, to a limited extent, those of a manager.

There are three exceptions to the classification of managers of wholesale, retail and service establishments:

- (i) Managers of chains of wholesale, retail and service establishments, whose activities extend to all establishments in the chain, are regarded as GENERAL MANAGERS, and are classified in Unit Group 1130 — GENERAL MANAGERS AND OTHER SENIOR OFFICIALS.
- (ii) Managers of large departmentalized wholesale, retail and service establishments belonging to a chain are classified as MANAGERS in Unit Group 1137 — SALES AND ADVERTISING MANAGEMENT OCCUPATIONS, and in Unit Group 1142 — SERVICE MANAGEMENT OCCUPATIONS. These managers implement policy determined by head-office management.
- (iii) Managers of large departmentalized wholesale, retail and service establishments which do not belong to a chain are classified as MANAGERS in Unit Group 1130 — GENERAL MANAGERS AND OTHER SENIOR OFFICIALS. Such managers lack direction from a headquarters office, and so are responsible for their own policy-making and implementation.

To further facilitate the identification and classification of managerial occupations, reference is frequently made in the appropriate Unit Group definitions to the following Master Titles and definitions:

- 01-090 GENERAL MANAGER (prof. & tech., n.e.c.)
- 01-170 MANAGER (prof. & tech., n.e.c.)
- 01-180 MANAGING SUPERVISOR (any ind.)*
- 01-250 SUPERVISOR; FOREMAN/WOMAN (any ind.)

*The last paragraph of this definition introduces the Term Title, 02-450 WORKING PROPRIETOR (any ind.). This title reflects an economic status, rather than work performed, so that working proprietors are treated as managing supervisors, managers, or general managers according to work functions, and are classified in their appropriate Unit Groups.

Similarly, tradesmen/women and professionals who, in addition to their regular duties also perform some managerial functions, are classified according to their primary functional duties: thus barbers in charge of their shops are classified as barbers.

2. Supervisors and Foremen/women Occupations A clear distinction is made in the CCDO, on the basis of work performed, between supervisors and the workers whom they supervise. The title FOREMAN/WOMAN is used when the workers, whose activities are supervised and coordinated, work in occupations concerned with processing, manufacturing, construction and primary industries. The title SUPERVISOR is used to denote the supervisory occupations in all other occupational groups.

By referring to Unit Group 8780 — FOREMEN/WOMEN, OTHER CONSTRUCTION TRADES OCCUPATIONS, several significant aspects of the classification of supervisors and foremen/women can be noted:

- (a) In this Unit Group definition, as in most others relating to supervisors and foremen/women occupations, reference is frequently made to the Master Title and definition 01-250 SUPERVISOR; FOREMAN/WOMAN (any ind.). This definition describes significant duties involving administrative supervision and responsibilities common to the occupations within the group.
- (b) In most cases, a special Unit Group will be assigned to supervisor and foreman/woman occupations, with a code number ending in the digit "0".
- (c) Each supervisor and foreman/woman occupation is assigned the usual seven-digit CCDO code number and the appropriate industry designation. However, since most supervisor and foreman/woman titles and definitions relate to a variety of occupations within a given Unit Group, they are not assigned occupational characteristics data or qualifications profile ratings. Because supervisors and foremen/women are usually engaged in administrative supervision, and do not normally perform any of the duties of the workers under their supervision, they are typically given a DPT designation of 138 (corresponding to Co-ordinating, Supervising, No Significant Relationship).
- (d) Professionals who perform supervisory functions in addition to their regular duties are classified according to their primary functional duties.

3. Technologist and Technician Occupations The tremendous technological developments of recent years have created an increased demand not only for scientists and engineers, but also for qualified scientific and engineering support staff. The titles of "technologist" and "technician" have come to be applied to many of these support occupations, but with little standardization in the definition and use of the terms. Typically, technologists and technicians perform duties primarily related to the following activities:

Technologists	Technicians
Research	Installation
Development	Operation and Maintenance
Design	Quality Control
Testing and Analysis	Production Planning
	Testing and Analysis

Normally, the scientist, engineer or manager is responsible for and qualified in the highest functional levels of these work activities. The technologist and the technician act in support capacities, with the technologist performing more complex duties than the technician.

Technologists usually receive their basic training in post-secondary institutes or colleges, with further specialized on-the-job training required to achieve full occupational competency. Technicians may also receive their basic training in schools or colleges, but some attain full competency by being trained on the job, following the completion of high school. This will obviously affect their GED and SVP ratings, but a GED/SVP rating of 5/7 is typical of a technologist, and a 4/6 rating of a technician. Technologists and technicians generally have a significant relationship to the Data functions of Synthesizing (0), Coordinating (1), Analyzing (2), and Compiling (3), and the Things functions of Setting-Up (0), Precision Working (1), and Operating-Controlling (2). The relationship to the People function is usually incidental as, for instance, when the technologist or technician has some supervisory responsibility. Individual variations in occupational characteristics and qualification profiles will, of course, frequently occur.

Term Titles and definitions are provided, and these give a general description of the type of work performed, and indicate the classification treatment for technologists and technicians. In addition, six Master Titles and definitions have been prepared to assist in describing more specific technologist and technician occupations.

Seven specific Unit Groups have been provided in the classification structure to accommodate many of the technologist and technician occupations. Those who cannot be properly classified in one of these groups are classified in the most appropriate Unit Groups elsewhere in the classification. For example, technologists who are mainly concerned with supervision, instruction or sales are classified as supervisors, instructors or salespersons, respectively.

- 4 Inspecting, Testing, Grading and Sampling Occupations Occupations which are primarily concerned with quality control activities in such areas of industry as the processing of raw materials, and the fabrication, assembly and repair of products are commonly called "inspectors", "testers", "graders" or "samplers". Occupations of this type are classified in special Unit Groups within the appropriate Minor Groups, and references to the applicable Term Titles are made in the Unit Group definitions:

- 02-150 GRADER (any ind.)
- 02-170 INSPECTOR (any ind.)
- 02-330 SAMPLER (any ind.)
- 02-430 TESTER (any ind.)

Most Unit Groups for inspectors, testers, graders and samplers can be identified by a four-digit code number ending in "6", although there are certain exceptions: Unit Groups 1136, 3156, 6116 and 8786 have been used to designate groups other than those relating to inspectors, testers, graders or samplers. If a Minor Group does not provide a special Unit Group for inspectors, testers, graders or samplers, they will then be classified in the Residual Unit Group of the Minor Group, as in 6169-166 CHECKER (laund., clean. & press.).

Regulatory Occupations Two special groups are provided for the classification of regulatory occupations:

Regulatory officers and inspectors concerned with enforcing and advising on governmental regulations pertaining to health, safety or other areas of governmental administration are classified in Unit Group 1116 — INSPECTORS AND REGULATORY OFFICERS, GOVERNMENT.

Inspectors and regulatory officers concerned with enforcing and advising on adherence to non-governmental standards and regulations in such areas as quality of service, and observance of company policies and procedures in branch organizations are classified in Unit Group 1176 — INSPECTORS AND REGULATORY OFFICERS, NON-GOVERNMENT.

5. Labourer/Elemental Worker Occupations The title LABOURER is used to classify occupations which require the application of common-sense understanding to carry out simple one- or two-step instructions, with little or no training needed for satisfactory work performance. The title ELEMENTAL WORKER may be used for similar occupations which are not, according to custom, referred to as "labourers".

Examine the definition for the Term Title 02-190 LABOURER/ELEMENTAL WORKER (any ind.), which describes duties common to labourers and elemental workers. It can be accurately inferred from this definition that the typical training time designations for occupations of this type are GED: 1 SVP: 1 or 2, although there are a few such occupations with a GED rating of 2. The majority of labourer and elemental worker occupations consist of tasks which are normally elementary or physical in nature. Consequently, the relevant worker functions, and their numerical equivalents are:

DATA	PEOPLE	THINGS
Copying (5)	Speaking-Signaling (6)	Feeding-Offbearing (6)
Comparing (6)	Serving (7)	Handling (7)
No Significant Relationship (8)	No Significant Relationship (8)	Handling (7)

Labourer and elemental worker occupations are classified in special Unit Groups within the Minor Group in which they would logically be found. The Unit Group is identified by a four-digit code number ending in "8", and the Unit Group definition will refer to the Term Title, 02-

190 LABOURER/ELEMENTAL WORKER (any ind.). If the logical Minor Group does not provide a special Unit Group for labourers and elemental workers, they are then classified in Unit Group 9918 — OCCUPATIONS IN LABOURING AND OTHER ELEMENTAL WORK, N.E.C.

6. Other Special Occupational Categories have also been given special treatment in the CCDO classification structure:

- (a) Apprentices
- (b) Helpers
- (c) Assistants
- (d) Cadets
- (e) Machinery Set-Up Occupations
- (f) Oiling and Greasing Occupations

A thorough knowledge of Term Titles and definitions is essential to the understanding of these special occupational categories.

- (a) Apprentices An apprentice is a learner of an occupation who performs some of the journeyman's/woman's duties. The nature and scope of the duties which apprentices may perform will vary according to the level of training they have reached. Apprentices are classified in the same Unit Group as the journeyman/woman for the occupation in which they are being trained, and usually immediately follow the journeyman/woman in the classification structure. Only reference definitions are provided for apprentices but they are assigned their own occupational code number. The Term Title and definition for 02-010 APPRENTICE (any ind.) further clarifies the nature of this occupation's classification.
- (b) Helpers Helpers normally work in manufacturing, processing, construction and primary industries in support of more highly qualified workers. They typically perform duties involving a variety of manual functions, and they are clearly subordinate to and under the direction of the worker assisted. Helpers are classified in the appropriate Unit Group according to the kind of work performed. However, if they meet the training time requirements for labourers and elemental workers, then helper occupations are classified in the Unit Group for labourers and elemental workers appropriate to the type of work involved. The Term Title and definition for 02-160 HELPER (any ind.) supplies useful supplementary information.
- (c) Assistants The term "Assistant" has a distinctive meaning in the CCDO. It is applied only to workers who assist others at the professional and managerial level. Assistants perform essentially Data and People related functions, and are clearly subordinate to the worker assisted. Assistants frequently require formal training in the specialization; for example, 3139-110 SURGICAL ASSISTANT (medical). The definition for the Term Title 02-040 ASSISTANT (any ind.) further clarifies the distinction between assistants and helpers.
- (d) Cadets Cadets are classified in the same Unit Group as are fully-qualified workers in the occupation for which they are being trained. For example, 6112-170 POLICE CADET (gov. serv.) is classified in Unit Group 6112 — POLICE OFFICERS AND DETECTIVES, GOVERNMENT.
- (e) Machinery Set-Up Occupations Machinery set-up men and women are classified in the same Unit Group as the operators or tenders of the machines. If the duties of an occupation require both the setting-up and the repair of machines, the occupation is classified according to the predominant aspect of the work. Examining Unit Group 8584 – INDUSTRIAL, FARM AND CONSTRUCTION MACHINERY MECHANICS AND REPAIRERS will illustrate this, for the Unit Group contains occupations concerned with both the repair and the set-up of machinery.

- (f) Oiling and Greasing Occupations Occupations which are primarily concerned with oiling and greasing machinery and other equipment are classified in Unit Group 8589 – MECHANICS AND REPAIRERS, EXCEPT ELECTRICAL, N.E.C., except when the work performed is at the level of labouring or elemental work. In this case, the occupation is classified in Unit Group 9918 – OCCUPATIONS IN LABOURING AND OTHER ELEMENTAL WORK, N.E.C.

LOCATING OCCUPATIONS IN THE CCDO

To locate a specific occupation in the CCDO, there are two routes of access available. These can be used either singly or together, depending on the circumstances.

1. Locating Occupations Using the Alphabetical Index of Occupational Titles Use of this method requires the application of four logical steps:

- (a) From the occupational information at hand, identify the most significant factors, and select the most probable title under which the occupation may be listed.
- (b) Search the CCDO Index in this GUIDE and note the CCDO occupational code number using the title selected.
- (c) Use the occupational code number to locate the corresponding occupational description.
- (d) Compare your information with that of the occupational description to assess the nature of the work performed. Confirm your selection.

If the appropriate occupational description cannot be identified through the first title selected, repeat the process using Additional Titles by which the occupation may be known. These may adopt complete or partial inversion. For example, the CCDO Title for a person who applies hot asphalt to roofs is a ROOFER, ASPHALT. The key word, ROOFER, is common to several occupations, and has been placed first, followed by its modifier, ASPHALT. In this way, a mere glance at the Index shows that the CCDO differentiates between ROOFERS according to the type of material used (metal, shingles, wood, tar and gravel). An Additional Title may also be in the form of a synonym for the CCDO Title. For example, a “fastener” might be classified as a cementer, gluer, nailer, riveter or stapler, depending on the material used or the method of fastening employed.

If you experience difficulty at first in locating a specific occupation, remember that occupational titles and duties will not always conform exactly to your individual perception of the nature of the occupation. You may be exaggerating or minimizing the level, duties or scope of a particular occupation, and what you view as a “repairer” might be classified as a repairer’s helper, an adjuster, a mechanic or a technician, depending on the type of equipment serviced, and how complex that servicing is.

2. Locating Occupations Using the Major, Minor and Unit Group Code Numbers and Definitions This second route of access to a specific occupation is convenient when not enough occupational information is available to initially select a probable occupational title. The process uses the breakdown of Major, Minor and Unit Group titles and definitions which precede the occupational descriptions in the CCDO. A similar listing is provided in this GUIDE, as well as in each Major Group book for the applicable Groups. Six steps are required:

- (a) Identify the significant job factors.
- (b) Select the most appropriate Major Group (title, then definition).
- (c) Select the most appropriate Minor Group (title, then definition).
- (d) Select the most appropriate Unit Group (title, then definition).
- (e) Select the most appropriate occupational title from the Unit Group selected.
- (f) Compare your information with that of the occupational description to assess the nature of the work performed. Confirm your selection.

Group definitions will prove to be an invaluable aid in locating occupations by this method. Their use will not only save time, but may occasionally refer to the specific occupation you are seeking. Group definitions also make reference to Master and Term Titles and definitions, and these may further help to locate the occupation matching the significant activities which you have identified.

Your success in locating occupations by either of these methods is determined largely by your ability to identify the significant aspects of an occupation: remember that an occupational description normally describes only those activities which are common to a number of individual jobs. A thorough knowledge of the criteria used to classify occupations will also help a great deal in their location.

Provides financial administration and cost advice service to construction industry:

Advises architects, engineers, building owners, developers, contractors, sub-contractors and public authorities on probable cost of construction in pre-tender stages using cost planning and cost control techniques. Analyzes costs of and prepares estimates on civil engineering, architectural, structural, electrical and mechanical construction projects. Prepares estimate of probable ultimate cost (first cost-plan) based on schematic design, outline specification, quantity of materials and labour required and knowledge of similar projects where details were prepared and final costs are known. Breaks down estimate to enable agreement upon budget target and to assist in calling tenders. Advises on tendering procedures, prepares forms of contracts, examines and analyzes tenders, recommends tender awards and conducts negotiations. Checks cost of evolving design against budget to provide continuous cost control and advises designer of cost implications of alternative design solutions. Examines and verifies progress payments, evaluates work in accordance with contract and makes recommendations for amount of such payment. Sets up cost-reporting system, gives cost advice and information at all stages of contract, develops cost analysis and monitors all changes in work. Advises or makes necessary adjustments to maintain budget level and ensure that best possible value for money invested is obtained. Prepares statements at regular intervals showing current expenditures to date incorporating all change orders authorized and indicating final cost. Re-evaluates work and provides final estimate when contract documents are virtually complete. Conducts arbitration in contract disputes, acts as expert witness, provides mortgage appraisals and on behalf of investors provides financial supervision.

Drafts preliminary operational budget to identify potential costs and revenues, and develops financial procedures guide. Organizes and directs central office secretariat to respond to telephone and written inquiries, prepare mailing lists and correspondence, and establish bank accounts. Negotiates with hotels and convention centres to obtain favourable room rates, space contracts and banquet and catering packages. Procures other services for event, such as, transportation, audio-visual and office equipment, translation, printing, signage and displays, to ensure availability of cost efficient, quality services. Books entertainment and plans social gatherings for delegates and participants. Liaises with sponsor or organizing committee members on regular basis to review planning progress, monitor and revise budget and obtain approval. Develops promotional material and designs printed matter, such as, registration forms, badges, invitations, programs and conference logos. Recruits, trains and supervises support staff required for event. Implements pre-registration strategy. Inspects convention-meeting site to preview rooms and facilities and meets with suppliers to ensure services meet requirements. Establishes on-site coordination office to provide registration and information services, and to oversee scheduling and logistics for entire event. Coordinates event. Approves all invoices for payment and prepares detailed financial statement at end of gathering. See also term title and definition for 02-090 CONSULTANT (prof. & tech., n.e.c.).

Sets up and operates optical instruments and lasers to produce holograms used in industrial testing and inspecting, developing navigational instrumentation displays, forgery proofing credit cards and other commercial and industrial applications:

Mixes and prepares emulsion gel according to formula and coats plate or film with gel to photographically sensitize material for exposure to light beams. Mounts photographically prepared material on holding frame. Designs holographic recording system layout by applying knowledge of optical phenomena such as, the interference and diffraction of light, if required. Sets up and aligns recording system configuration by selecting, positioning and adjusting mirrors and lenses, filters, beam splitters and beam expanders, and by placing object under study in desired location to arrange an optical pattern that will permit beams to strike plate or film and transmit desired characteristics. Sets up and operates laser by activating power source and monitoring power indicating meters to gradually warm-up system, and by manipulating control nodes to set the aperture and fix power and wave length intervals. Takes exposure by opening and closing electronically controlled shutter to record hologram of study object on photographically prepared material. Removes material from holding frame, submerges material in chemical baths for specified periods and dries in heat controlled oven. Observes optical characteristics form on material during processing to detect flaws that would require re-recording. Removes hologram and analyzes quality of recording, using spectrophotometer to scan wave length and measure definition and efficiency of hologram. Maintains laser and holographic laboratory facilities, materials and equipment. May operate holographic system equipped with automatic developer to permit hologram viewing immediately after recording.

Carries out technological functions in virology in support of research and diagnostic applications:

Performs duties similar to those of 2135-130 BACTERIOLOGICAL TECHNOLOGIST (prof. & tech., n.e.c.), but specializes in identifying and culturing viruses in plant or animal tissue. Confers with research scientist to determine study objectives and establish methodology. Conducts microscopic examinations of ultrathin sections of plant or animal tissue, to detect the presence of viruses and determines virus concentration, purity and morphological states of viruses. Determines physico-chemical and biological properties of viruses and their components by purifying the virus from infected tissue and isolating the components. Detects viruses in vectors and determines relationships among viruses by developing and evaluating antisera and conducting serological tests. Conducts experiments to determine ability of vectors to transmit viruses, vector efficiency and other features of transmission. Records results of laboratory experiments, tabulates data and draws graphs to illustrate results. See also master title, 01-150 LIFE SCIENCES TECHNOLOGIST (prof. & tech., n.e.c.).

Performs technical functions in support of the management, protection and conservation of land, water, forest and wildlife resources:

Performs duties as described under master title, 01-140 LIFE SCIENCES TECHNICIAN (prof. & tech., n.e.c.). Estimates the volume of merchantable timber available for cutting by conducting on-site surveys and interpreting aerial photographs. Inspects timber operations for compliance with regulations. Participates in forestry rejuvenation projects by thinning growth in selected areas, germinating and transplanting seedlings and by reclaiming burned over areas. Fights forest fires in emergency situations. Assesses and evaluates land to determine its potential use as a site for public recreation, or for resort or cottage development. Enforces fish and wildlife legislation. Cultures and preserves fish from egg to brood stock and maintains fish units in a hatchery. Conducts wildlife inventories and calculates harvests of game and fish species. Collects samples of fish and animal species and of plant, water and soil specimens for laboratory study. Directs work crews and supervises outside contractors engaged in developing new camp sites, rehabilitating existing sites and in clearing Performs duties of 2143-118 CIVIL ENGINEER, GENERAL (prof. & tech., n.e.c.). Specializes in applying physical science and engineering principles to the planning, design, construction and maintenance of man-made structures and for the enhancement of natural shorelines in the coastal zone. Compiles and analyzes tidal, wave, current, wind and other data to determine how natural shorelines and existing structures interact with coastal forces. Predicts wave forces, ice conditions, sediment transport rates and other coastal and hydraulic phenomena using numerical modelling techniques and incorporates projections into design. Evaluates designs and oversees construction or maintenance of cargo, barge and ferry terminals, ports, shipyards and drydocks, marinas and other marine facilities. Plans shore protection structures, such as, break waters, seawalls, bulkheads and jetties to reduce or eliminate wave action, limit shore erosion and to protect navigation channels and harbours.

Prepares layouts, designs and detail drawings from sketches, notes and specifications for application in electronics, manufacturing, construction or other fields, using graphics terminal of a computer system:

Reviews sketches and other data with engineering staff and makes changes using conventional draughting techniques. Switches on computer and loads disk or tape-drive units with selected data files and programs. Enters identification data, codes and instructions using terminal keyboard to retrieve and display required drawings, other graphics such as grids, scales, radii, point locations, vertical and horizontal lines, draughting symbols and stored textual data. Enters instructions using keyboard to manipulate displayed graphics by rotating displays, increasing or decreasing dimensions of subject items, and deleting, inserting or repeating data to develop designs or modify drawings. Enters dimensions, locations and other digitized geometric or analytic information using terminal keyboard for input into computer. Redraws details and edits text directly on face of sensitized screen using function selector and light pen. Verifies completeness and accuracy of final drawing displayed on screen before instructing computer to store on memory disk or tape. Keys commands for computer-controlled plotter to reproduce finalized drawings, specified elevations, cross-sections, projections or other details on hard-copy paper for engineering use. Reviews drawings for accuracy, makes changes either manually or using computer system, and submits final copies to checkers and engineering staff for approval. May produce tabulated dimensional information, codes for drawings and files,

Performs duties as described under master title, 01-070 ENGINEERING TECHNICIAN (prof. & tech., n.e.c.). Plans sequence of testing and calibration procedures for measuring instruments using engineering sketches and specifications. Sets up standardized laboratory equipment to test accuracy of instruments used to measure and record length, mass, time, temperature, luminous intensity, electric current or amount of substance. Compares instrument readings obtained to standard. Troubleshoots recording systems and instrumentation to the component level using electronic diagnostic equipment, test jigs and fixtures to isolate faults. Disassembles instruments and measures parts for conformity to specifications using micrometer, callipers, and other precision measuring tools. Replaces suspect parts using component insertion and extraction tools and soldering equipment, and reassembles, aligns and adjusts instruments. Calibrates measuring, recording and indicating instruments according to established standards. Evaluates and interprets test data, makes calculations and prepares technical reports. Assists engineering personnel in developing calibration standards.

Performs technical functions in field and laboratory settings to locate, measure and control pollution of the air, water and soil:

Performs duties as described under master title, 01-070 ENGINEERING TECHNICIAN (prof. & tech., n.e.c.). Gathers field specimens of water, seawater or industrial wastewater and performs standard analyses to determine pollution levels. Samples and tests sewage, sediments, sludge, soils and hazardous wastes to determine chemical makeup of pollutants. Collects samples of gases from process ventilation systems and smokestacks, and conducts required testing, odour panel evaluations and stack gas analyses to determine makeup of gas pollutants and ensure that toxicity levels are in compliance with regulated standards. Installs, operates and maintains environmental monitoring equipment, data collection stations and testing instruments. Keeps records of readings taken from environmental monitoring equipment to audit industrial emissions of toxic substances into the environment. Identifies new emission sources, investigates environmental upsets and makes recommendations to control emissions. May specialize in performing one type of environmental protection work.

3156-112 CYTOGENETICS TECHNOLOGIST (medical)

Cultures and analyzes chromosomes of prenatal and postnatal cells, to detect disorders involving abnormalities of chromosome numbering and structuring, and provide diagnostic information:

Identifies human cell samples such as, blood specimens, amniotic fluid or skin fibroblast, by recording information in laboratory directory and marking sample container. Deposits cell sample in growth media, adds chemicals to stimulate cell division and places media in incubator for specified period, to culture cells. Harvests cells by removing sample from growth media, adds chemical fixative to preserve cells and drops solution onto glass slide to prepare cells for microscopic viewing. Stains cells on glass slide with dye, to provide contrast and facilitate sharp, clear microscopic viewing. Mounts slide in light microscope, adjusts controls and condensers to desired positions and views specimen. Analyzes specimen by counting number of chromosomes, examining banding patterns and by checking for abnormalities. Records findings on work sheets while at microscope to capture relevant data. Photographs specimens by operating camera fixed to microscope to provide permanent diagnostic record. Removes and develops film of specimen by employing standard darkroom techniques. Karyotypes chromosomes by locating and numbering pairs on photograph, or by cutting out chromosomes from prints and matching them to provide concrete, diagnostic evidence. Prepares reports on examinations conducted for review by requesting physician or pathologist.

Immerses fixed specimen in specified solution to dehydrate specimen and washes tissue in chemical solutions to prepare tissue for embedding. Infiltrates tissue into plastic resin and embeds tissue into a moulded plastic capsule, by applying heat, to prepare tissue for cutting. Trims away excess plastic, using razor blade, and cuts ultra-thin sections of tissue, using glass or diamond cutting knives of microtome. Mounts and positions sections on glass slides, and stains tissue to add contrast to enhance examination. Moves slides to examination room and actuates controls at microscope console to activate electron source. Centres illumination apparatus, manipulates condensers and adjusts controls to balance flow of electrons and maximize capacity of microscope. Injects prepared section into column of microscope, views section and adjusts controls to create sharp, clear image. Screens and photographs specimen sections by depressing

3156-123 IMMUNOLOGY TECHNOLOGIST (medical)

Performs immunological tests and procedures in a medical laboratory to assist physicians in diagnosing, treating and preventing diseases of the immune system:

Identifies samples of body fluids, serum, plasma and other blood components, by marking containers and making entries in laboratory directory. Reads medical requisition and accompanying forms to determine type of testing requested by physician. Tests samples by applying immunological techniques such as, radio-immuno assays, immuno diffusion and Elisa, to aid in the diagnosis and treatment of immunological diseases and provide data for organ transplantation cases, blood transfusions and other medical applications. Conducts tests by examining solutions, using spectrophotometer and light microscope, and employs gamma counters, centrifuges and other scientific instruments normally found in a biology laboratory. Uses known serums of known values, and compares and checks results against established norms to lessen probability of error or miscalculation occurring. Completes requisition form by recording ranges of normal values obtained through testing to provide physician with data to determine, or clarify diagnosis and formulate and prescribe treatment. Develops new methods and procedures for immunological study to retrieve information not available from established procedures.

Collects blood and tests blood donor units to ensure unit suitability and to group unit types. Prepares and stores donated units by following standard procedures to prevent physical and serological factors from deteriorating stored units. Types and matches blood for transfusions by conducting compatibility tests, detector tests and by screening blood cells to supply compatible blood, blood components and plasma to recipients. Tests donor and recipient samples by performing a variety of laboratory tests and procedures such as, temperature tests, indirect antiglobulin tests and phenotyping procedures, to screen, detect and identify antibodies found in blood specimens. Identifies blood group antigens, antibodies and reactions, using incubation, centrifugation and other laboratory techniques, and by employing chemicals, microscopes, automatic analyzers, electronic counters and other instruments to facilitate an accurate match of blood. Prepares reports on tests performed, summarizes procedures undertaken and labels specimens, to provide diagnostic information and accurate records. Recognizes, investigates and confirms adverse transfusion reactions by examining pre- and post-transfusion recipient blood samples and by examining donor units and recipient urine to avert or control negative reactions. Detects blood group incompatibility between mothers and infants in prenatal and postnatal examinations, to prevent or treat hemolytic disease of the newborn.

7319-119 OYSTER-CULTURE TECHNICIAN (fishing)

Rears and harvests oysters for commercial market:

Fabricates spat collectors from scallop shells and wire and builds supporting structures (fences). Submerges fences and spat collectors in water at selected spat-collecting sites, working from scow or boat. Monitors spat fall by periodically examining collectors at different locations and estimates yield of young oysters. Controls predators such as starfish by trapping, or adding chemicals to water in accordance with regulations. Separates young oysters from scallop shells and distributes oysters to selected areas or beds. Collects samples of brood stock by fishing oysters from bottom either mechanically, by hand, or scuba diving. Shucks samples and evaluates condition of brood-stock oysters for spawning. Assesses hydrodynamics of oyster-culture area, including speed and direction of currents and tide periodicity. Takes samples of plankton from water with sieve, analyzes samples in laboratory and estimates development of oyster larvae according to established standards. Records weather conditions, water temperature and salinity and prepares bacterial cultures to check quality of water. Removes samples of oysters from beds and estimates population, size and grade of developing stock, based on knowledge of habitat and approved sampling techniques. Collects oysters from marketable areas and grades and packs for shipment. Maintains buildings, boats and equipment used in growing and gathering oysters.

7510-112 FORESTRY CONSERVATION CONTRACTOR (forest. & log.)

Carries out silvicultural activities under contract with government agencies, mills, and logging companies to enhance future forest crops. Contacts persons who lease or own forests to solicit business. Studies and interprets contracts to determine scope of work for the establishment of new timber crops after harvest, the restoration of forest lands after fire, or for the improvement of immature forests. Inspects forest lands and consults maps and aerial photographs to evaluate contour and accessibility of terrain, determine crew, camp and equipment requirements, estimate costs and to analyze risks. Prepares and submits bid. Recruits conservation and silviculture workers and arranges transportation and living accommodation. Trains inexperienced crew members in equipment use and maintenance and in safety and silviculture work practices. Directs and coordinates conservation operations, such as, backlog planting, site rehabilitation, spacing, fertilizing and commercial thinning to increase timber yield forest lands. Prepares progress reports and maintains payroll records. May lead forest fire fighting crews.

7510-116 LOGGING CONTRACTOR (forest. & log.)

Conducts logging operations in forests owned or leased by others, on a fee or contractual basis:

Negotiates contracts with mills, logging companies, government agencies and individuals. Inspects designated timber tract and terrain to determine size of crew and equipment requirements. Confers with forestry officials concerning the harvesting of tract to ensure selection of an ecologically safe and efficient method. Recruits workers and directs the setting up of camp and equipment at logging site. Arranges transportation and accommodation services for workers. Directs and coordinates the felling, bucking, skidding, yarding, salvage and booming operations to harvest and move logs from site to transportation or storage area. Enforces safety regulations. Maintains production and payroll records.

7511-113 FORESTRY-CONSERVATION WORKER (forest. & log.)

Implements extended programs to regenerate forest areas and increase crop yields by planting seedlings, spacing young trees, controlling disease and insect infestations, slash-burning selected forest sites and fire-fighting:

Reads and interprets maps and aerial photographs to determine locations for forestry conservation work. Prepares old logging sites for future forest stands, working with crew to slash-burn wood debris and excess vegetation in order to clear space for growth of new seedlings. Controls and extinguishes fires during slash-burns using techniques such as; wetting-down with water and clearing fire-breaks to prevent spread of fire to adjoining forest, bridges or structures in area. Examines soil to determine composition and decide species of trees appropriate for sites to be replanted. Carries seedlings in planting bag and carefully selects spot for each planting. Makes hole in earth with mattock, inserts roots of seedling to correct depth and presses earth back with boot to complete planting. Cleans and weeds stands of seedlings and young trees to promote growth, using machete, power saw or herbicides to remove unwanted vegetation. Thins stands of immature trees to remove diseased, insect infested or deformed specimens and provide room for growth to desired size and quality. Gathers, sorts and labels cones to provide seed for future plantings. Leads forestry crew when fighting fires, selecting equipment and techniques suitable for effective and timely extinguishing of fires. Maintains tools, power saws, pumps, hoses, sprayers and other equipment. Inspects stands of young trees, evaluates growth and condition, and reports findings for possible corrective action. Visits logging sites to ensure all usable felled trees have been recovered. Completes activity records and prepares reports.

7511-116 SILVICULTURE WORKER (forest. & log.)

Cultivates trees in support of long-term forestry programs directed toward regeneration of growth, increased crop yields, better wildlife habitat and improved forest environment:

Locates access roads, property boundaries and areas specified for forestry work by referring to maps and aerial photographs. Prepares sites for reforestation by manually removing debris and unwanted vegetation, or by exposing mineral soil with tractor-drawn scarifier. Scatters seed of desired species of trees over areas prepared for new forest stands. Transplants seedlings from nursery, following approved lay-outs and techniques and using implements such as shovels, mattocks and hand planters, or tractor-drawn planting equipment. Monitors growth in newly reforested sites, restocks failed areas and cuts and removes undesirable vegetation. Reports insect or disease infestations and mixes and applies pesticides and fertilizers, as directed. Selects and cuts unwanted species and diseased, damaged or surplus trees with a portable, powered clearing-saw to improve stands of young trees and free best trees for faster growth. Prunes branches from young trees to improve tree form and quality. Fights forest fires and protects against fire by building fire breaks and clearing brush. Operates motor-driven pumps, hoses, nozzles and other fire-fighting equipment. Selects seed trees and collects cones for extraction of seeds to be used in growing nursery stock.

7513-115 MOBILE-CHIPPER OPERATOR (forest. & log.)

Operates mobile chipping machine to reduce trees or logging residue into chips for pulpwood or fuel:

Drives and sets up machine at work site in logging area. Starts engine of chipper and manipulates boom and grapple by operating hydraulic hand and foot controls to pick up and sort trees from adjacent piles according to species and quality. Loads whole trees or logging residue such as, branches, tree tops or small logs into conveyor and feed-rollers of chipper, regulating feed rate according to speed of chipper cutters. Moves control lever to point output spout from chipper into box of truck or trailer for removal of chips from work site. Directs skidder or truck operators with hand signals when unloading trees or removing chips in vicinity of chipping machine. Saws large or malformed trees into pieces of manageable size for processing, using chain saw, and cleans debris from area. Lubricates, checks condition and adjusts machinery, using hand tools. Changes chipper knives, engine oil and filters according to maintenance instructions. Records operating times and details of maintenance work or repairs completed.

7517-116 GRAPPLE-YARDER OPERATOR (forest. & log.)

Operates mobile grapple-yarding machine to haul logs from tree cutting site to loading area for removal from forest:

Moves hand and foot controls to drive and position yarder at landing site in logging area where logs will be yarded (gathered) and loaded onto trucks. Responds to hand or two-way radio signals from yarding crew. Moves controls of yarder to unwind and tighten cables during laying out of guidelines of yarder and setting of front lines used to support grapple and haul logs from cutting site. Picks up logs cut along haul line with grapple and moves logs to pile at landing. Changes direction of setting or moves yarder to new site when required. Cleans and greases yarder machinery and checks for condition and normal operation before starting shift. Makes minor repairs to equipment using hand tools, and assists mechanics with major breakdowns, dismantling or repair work.

Directs yarding (hauling) of logs from cutting site to truck loading area for removal from forest:

Selects best log recovery location for mainline and grapple of grapple-yarder logging system. Assists yarding crew during setting up of yarding machine and installation of rigging, using chain saw, axe and cable splicing, cutting and spiking tools. Checks condition of cables and rigging before each shift and replaces worn or damaged components. Directs grapple-yarder operator and crew on grapple movements, using hand signals or two-way radio. Monitors setting of chokers to recover logs beyond reach of grapple and checks area to ensure removal of all logs. Repositions mainline as required to extend area of yarding operation and assists in dismantling rigging for site changes. May operate bulldozer or backhoe in support of on-site activities.

Establishes priorities, organizes crew shifts and sets up training schedules. Reviews assigned drilling program, decides operational parameters and directs drill-crew accordingly. Co-ordinates functional and supporting activities of rig such as; those of stability control, subsea and drilling sections with work of casing and cementing crews. Organizes testing of well as drilling proceeds. Supervises use and operation of blowout preventer and associated equipment and ensures practice runs in blowout-prevention are held. Directs specialized activities such as; coring, fishing and working stuck tools in hole. Reads test instruments, performs well-control calculations, interprets data and makes decisions to respond to down-hole conditions. Ensures company drilling policies and well-control procedures are adhered to. Monitors rig stability data, stationing of rig over hole and weather outlook and advises stability control of impending operations or movement of material. Supervises testing and checking of rig, equipment, and systems to ensure structural and operational integrity are not in jeopardy. Directs maintenance programs and ongoing repair activities. Approves requisitions for materials and checks inventory to ensure economic utilization of equipment and supplies. Maintains up-to-date certifications and specified documentation for personnel.

Instructs crew members in correct techniques and safe use of machinery, well-control practices, blowout prevention and emergency procedures applicable to drilling at sea. Operates cathead (winch) from control station to provide torque for connecting sections of drill string pipe and casing. Moves controls of draw works to lower or raise drill string into or out of well. Observes pressure gauges and other panel instruments, interprets data and moves control levers and switches to regulate speed of rotary table and pressure on drilling bit at bottom of hole. Starts pumps and adjusts rate of circulation, consistency and pressure of mud (drilling fluid) in hole. Examines drilling samples from well to determine nature of rock strata being drilled and directs changing of drill bit according to condition of bit and strata encountered. Recovers lost or broken drill string parts from well by fishing with special tools on drill stem or cable. Lowers test instruments into well to check deviation or perform other tests. Directs periodic inspections and servicing of derrick structure, draw works, manifolds, drilling fluid system, motion compensator and associated equipment of rig to ensure safety and reliability. Orders repairs or replacements for defective parts. Prepares daily reports of footage drilled, operational data pertaining to rig equipment and usage times, and maintenance and repair records.

Supervises preparation and assembly of BOP (blowout preventer) stack and associated components before lowering of unit to seabed for latching to well-head. Checks seals, lines, gaskets and connectors, torques and bolts on equipment and applies hydraulic and hydrostatic tests. Co-ordinates operation and testing of BOP stack after batch-up, troubleshoots malfunctions during drilling operations and assists driller in retrieval of defective units for repair or overhaul on surface. Inspects components of riser pipe system and pressure tests choke and kill lines. Functionally tests mechanical components and pneumatic and hydraulic controls of diverter system, makes repairs and verifies system operation. Checks for proper operation of riser and guideline tensioners and oil levels, air pressure settings and condition of components such as sheaves, wireline, piston rods and seals. Calculates tensions and adjusts air pressures in tensioners to required levels. Prepares subsea well-head equipment for use, instructs crew in safe procedures with handling tools and assists driller in lowering, positioning and testing of wellhead gear on seabed. Tests and

Guides lengths of drill-pipe from storage racks in upper section of derrick to drilling floor for coupling to or removal from drill string, and operates drilling fluid mixing and pumping equipment on board offshore drilling platform or vessel:

Checks safety lines and equipment before starting work from platform high in derrick. Positions and closes elevators (clamps) on top of drill-pipe sections during lowering and attachment to drill string when running pipe into well. Guides sections of drill-pipe into storage racks during removal of drill string from well and releases elevators from pipe. Operates controls of mixing equipment to prepare drilling fluids (mud) and chemicals of specified composition, consistency and quantity. Operates controls of mud pumps and valves to circulate mud as directed through mud-conditioning equipment. Lubricates, cleans, inspects and repairs pumps, valves, lines, connections and other components of drilling fluid system. Inspects, services and performs routine repairs to derrick and integral equipment. Maintains logs of drilling fluid characteristics, chemicals and mud usage, and maintenance and repair records for derrick and drilling fluid system. 8213-208 BAKE-OFF EQUIPMENT TENDER (bake. prod.)

Tends baking equipment to bake breads, rolls, cakes and other bakery products from frozen dough: Receives and stores frozen dough in freezer. Moves dough from storage to baking area, using push cart. Loads tray of frozen dough into retarder machine. Sets timer and operates machine for predetermined period to thaw dough. Removes tray, places tray in proofing oven and sets timer, to allow dough to rise according to recipe instructions. Removes dough from proofer oven. Sets baking oven temperature and timer controls, according to instructions, and loads trays into preheated oven. Observes temperature and pressure gauges to maintain oven heat and humidity at prescribed levels. Removes trays of baked goods, and places trays on tables and racks for cooling

8217-111 FISH PLANT WORKER (fish process.)

Performs a wide variety of duties in small fish-processing plants to prepare fresh fish for market:

Unloads fish from hold of fishing vessel into containers or onto conveyor to move fish to sorting tables in fish-processing plant. Sorts fish into separate containers according to species, size and quality. Shovels crushed ice onto containers of sorted fish to maintain freshness. Operates forklift to move containers of fish to cutting and filleting tables and to perform other lifting and transporting duties around plant. Cuts, trims and cleans fish with knife, discarding head, fins, scales, and viscera, and washes away slime and blood. Cuts fillets from carcass of fish with knife and lays fillets on conveyor of skin-removing machine. Examines fillets on lighted table after skinning and cuts or scrapes away residual skin, parasites, stains and other imperfections. Packs fresh fillets in bulk containers with crushed ice, or places fish in retail packages for freezing prior to shipment. Removes head and part of backbone to split carcass of fish selected for preservation by dry-salting technique, or by pickling in brine. Spreads fish and salt in layers on trays and places trays in temporary cold storage, or places fish in sealed vats to marinate in brine. Removes salted fish from cold storage or from brine vats after curing and places fish on trays for dehydration in forced-air, heated drying chambers. Removes fish from drying chambers, packs fish in shipping containers for marketing and loads orders onto trucks. Cleans fish processing area after each workday, using water hose, brushes, broom and anti-bacterial detergent to disinfect premises. May load crushed ice and bait containers on fishing vessels in preparation for next catch by fishermen/women.

8226-111 FISH-ROE TECHNICIAN (fish process.)

Inspects fish roe to be marketed for human consumption before, during and after processing, advises processing plant personnel on grading and processing procedures to meet buyer's specifications, performs quality control tests, and ensures that processed roe complies with buyer's specifications:

Demonstrates techniques of removing roe from herring, salmon, pollock, lumpfish, capelin and other fish. Advises processing plant supervisory personnel on quality of roe purchased from roe extraction plant or other sources. Advises supervisory personnel on primary processing of roe such as brine firming of herring and lumpfish roe, freezing procedures, and maximum storage times of salmon, pollock and capelin roe prior to secondary processing. Determines strength of brine solutions, proportions of chemical additives, salting times and temperatures required for secondary processing to preserve roe to buyer's specifications and advises supervisory personnel in application of these criteria. Instructs supervisory personnel and plant workers in criteria for grading roe. Inspects roe for proper grading according to buyer's specifications. Conducts chemical, physical and organoleptical (sight, smell, taste and touch) tests on roe to meet buyer's quality standards. Advises supervisory personnel on packing of roe.

8226-120 INSPECTOR-GRADER, FISH (fish process.)

Inspects samples taken from catch or load of fresh fish, assigns quality grades to batch lots from load to establish price for buying prior to processing, and examines samples of fish products after processing to allot grade and ensure satisfactory standards for marketing are maintained:

Chooses sampling plan and procedures to be used in examining and grading load. Identifies batch lots of homogeneous quality fish aboard fishing vessel or transportation vehicle and selects samples of fish at random from different batch lots in load, based on sampling plan being used. Carries or pushes samples in containers on dolly to grading area. Weighs individual fish to determine average weight in lot. Assigns quality grades within each lot in accordance with established standards. Calculates and records weight of each grade of fish aboard vessel or vehicle. Rejects portion of load which is below acceptable quality level. Calculates purchase price of load based on grades assigned and current prices. Examines frozen products at end of processing line for evidence of dehydration and nonconformities in frozen blocks of fish such as air pockets, ragged edges and embedded packaging materials. Records defects, estimates percentage of frozen product loss and assigns grade according to defects found. Examines defrosted or fresh samples of fish products by viewing on a lighted candling-table and by smell, touch and taste to detect uncharacteristic odours, foreign matter such as bones, scales, and roe, bruises or colour abnormalities, improper texture and other faults. Counts defects in measured areas of samples to determine frequency of occurrence. Records defect points allotted and ascertains if total points exceed specified defect tolerances. Assesses intrinsic quality factors and assigns grades to sample units of product. Rejects units which exceed total allowable defects in each grade. Records results on grading documents.

8311-112 MOULD MAKER (mach., weld. & forg.)

Sets up and operates machine tools to cut out and finish parts for compression, transfer or injection moulds used to form products from plastic or other materials:

Studies drawings and specifications, visualizes product and computes dimensions and tolerances for machining mould. Makes sketches and plans sequence of operations, applying knowledge of mouldmaking, metallurgy, shop mathematics and metal machining methods. Selects and cuts out rough stock for mould block and squares workpiece to specified dimensions with surface grinder. Drills holes in mould block for guide pins with drill press and saws block into halves, using power saw. Selects contour templates and clamping devices and mounts mould block halves on table of milling machine. Sets up and starts machine to cut out metal and form cavities of desired shapes in mould blocks for article to be moulded. Drills holes in mould block for passage of coolants, steam or injection materials during moulding process. Finishes surfaces of mould by grinding, polishing or etching to impart desired texture on mould articles and accurately fit together mating surfaces of mould blocks. Checks dimensions of workpiece during machining process and of finished mould with precision measuring instruments. May heat treat completed moulds according to specifications. May operate numerically-controlled machines to cut out and shape material for mould blocks.

Fabricates to close tolerances custom ordered sheet-metal products or parts such as; chassis and cabinets for electronic equipment, aerospace components or hospital and restaurant equipment:

Reviews and refines customer's drawings to meet requirements for production of parts, making allowances for bending, clearances and fitting to other assemblies. Determines sequence of operations for cutting out, forming, finishing and assembling of parts. Prepares bill of materials for ordering metal stock and hardware. Collects materials, lays out work according to drawings and instructions and passes stock to shear tenders for cutting to sizes specified for each item. Marks parts for next stage of cutting, or punching, notching, bending, forming or welding as work progresses. Checks set up of machines, dimensions of parts, relationship of notches, holes, mounting faces and bracketry at each stage of fabrication and assembly, using verniers, calipers, surface table, micrometers, scales, square, protractor or other measuring instruments to ensure tolerances are not exceeded. Sends assembled items to cleaning area for grinding, sanding and finishing before plating or painting. Inspects completed products prior to delivery. May enter data such as, line-lengths, angles, hold-sizes and positional co-ordinates into computer to check accuracy of dimensions, or to prepare data sheets or punched tapes for use with numerically controlled shears, brakes, punch presses or other power operated machines. May operate shop equipment, if required to expedite production of customer's order.

Fabricates, assembles, installs and repairs sheet metal and synthetic materials for aircraft, land vehicles and support equipment used by Canadian Forces:

Performs duties as described under master title, 01-300 SERVICE-MAN/WOMAN (military). Plans and develops layouts on sheet metal, and marks reference points for shaping and forming. Sets up and operates machines such as shears, brakes, punches, rollers and drill presses to cut, bend, punch, roll, drill and straighten metal. Hammers metal over anvils, blocks or forms to conform to blueprints, drawings or other specifications. Welds metal parts together, using oxy-acetylene, electric arc, inert gas, and other resistance-welding techniques, or solders or rivets metal together. Files or grinds seams, joints or burred edges. Assembles and installs sheet metal and synthetic materials. Makes and repairs fluid and gas lines and control cables, using tube-bending equipment, flaring tools and swaging equipment. Repairs oil and fuel tanks, water tanks and radiators. Prepares reports and statistical returns to account for labour and material used. Operates metal-cleaning, heat-treating and plating baths. Operates light vehicles or ground support equipment.

8335-112 WELDER, DRILLING RIG (mach., weld. & forg.)

Fits and welds metal parts to assemble, modify or repair structures, machinery, tanks, pressure vessels, piping or other components on board drilling platform or vessel at sea:

Examines workpiece or drawings, plans operation and decides type of welding to use, applying knowledge of geometry, physical properties of metals, effects of heat, welding techniques and safety procedures for welding on board drilling vessel. Lays out, aligns and fits pieces or assembles together, using scale, square, straightedge, scribe and chalk. Cuts out and shapes or trims parts with cutting torch, saws, files and grinders. Clamps, bolts or tack-welds parts into position for welding. Selects and sets up welding equipment and completes welds, using electric arc, gas shielded arc, submerged arc or gas torch, as best suited to job. Brushes, chips or grinds off excessive weld, slag or splatter. Welds broken tools or machinery parts and adds welding metal to worn or damaged areas to make repairs. Maintains inventory of welding supplies and equipment. May heat and anneal workpieces after welding to relieve internal stresses.

8335-119 LASER-BEAM WELDER (mach., weld. & forg.)

Operates laser-beam welding machine to weld small metal parts on production basis:

Reviews instructions on workorder for welding of batch of parts. Secures parts of workpieces in jigs or fixtures for welding. Selects operating modes of welding machine for particular application and makes adjustments such as, power settings, intensity and direction of laser beams. Sets controls to provide flow of specified gases over weld area of parts to prevent oxidation, dissipate wastes and facilitate clean work. Adjusts machine controls to align previously positioned parts, using microscope to set location. Observes weld area in microscope and presses control to make weld. Removes parts from holding fixtures and inspects welds for condition and adherence to specifications. May move or rotate workpiece manually to make seam-weld or series of spot-welds. May operate numerically-controlled machine that

8335-120 WELDER, PIPELINE (construction)

Operates arc welding equipment to weld large diameter pipe ends together during construction of oil and natural gas pipelines: Selects electrode rods according to type and thickness of pipe metal or specifications, and gives instructions regarding welding operations to helper. Signals helper to adjust welding machine controls to give required amperage and voltage output or sets machine controls before welding. Strikes rod on abutted pipe ends and guides rod, using downhand welding procedure, along joint at required arc length, angle, speed and motion to produce fusion of metal for first weld (stringer bead). Examines weld for size of bead and penetration and ensures that slag or other irregularities are removed between welding passes. Welds over stringer bead to build up additional strength in weld before weld cools (hot pass). Welds over hot pass weld in successive passes (filler bead, cap bead) required to fill in and fuse space between pipe ends.

8533-112 ELECTRICAL TECHNICIAN (military)

Maintains electrical-power-generating equipment and distribution systems onboard Canadian Forces ships:
Performs duties as described under master title, 01-300 SERVICE-MAN/WOMAN (military). Maintains main propulsion auxiliary equipment such as motors, heaters, electrically-powered-control equipment, and main and auxiliary boilers. Maintains electrically-operated systems such as refrigeration and cooling, fire-fighting, fresh water distilling and electrical generating and lighting systems. Dismantles, repairs, reassembles and tests power-generating and distribution systems. Observes dials, gauges and lights, and monitors operation of electrical systems and main electrical switchboard. Compiles reports and returns.

8533-116 MARINE ELECTRICIAN (military)

Operates and maintains electrical-power-generating equipment and distribution systems onboard Canadian Forces ships:
Performs duties as described under master title, 01-300 SERVICE-MAN/WOMAN (military). Operates electrical systems and equipment such as battery chargers, emergency battery supplies, cathodic protection devices, auxiliary power supplies, degaussing equipment, static inverters and gyrofin stabilizers. Operates electrical switchboard to control frequency, voltage and loading of generators, and to transfer electrical load from generator to generator. Shuts down generators for maintenance and other purposes. Opens and closes switches to control power and lighting distribution. Reads and records meter readings hourly. Tests, maintains and repairs electrical-distribution systems, motors, fans, fire pumps, refrigeration systems, electrical generators and switchboards.

8533-124 RIG ELECTRICIAN (electric. equip.)

Operates, maintains and repairs electrical power generation, conversion, distribution and control systems and other electrical equipment on board drilling platform or vessel at sea:
Sets up switchboard prior to start up of generators, making selections for mode of operation, distribution and control of power output. Observes control panel instrumentation and operates switchboard controls to regulate frequency, voltage and loading of generators, and to distribute power between user systems of vessel and drilling rig. Refers to electrical diagrams and technical manuals, makes electrical calculations and performs tests on electrical apparatus to identify and locate faults in defective components or systems. Co-ordinates testing, repair and preventative maintenance work to integrate with other rig activities. Shuts down, dismantles, repairs, reassembles and tests electrical systems and equipment, using hand and power tools, test meters and oscilloscope. Maintains transformers, high-voltage switch gear, protective devices and alarm circuits. Tests and repairs electric motors and repairs or replaces defective wiring to equipment. Maintains refrigeration, air-conditioning and heating systems, galley appliances, water heaters, lighting, sewage disposal and other domestic units. Services and repairs electrical components of operational equipment such as, anchor winches, thrusters, elevators, external lighting, beacons, storage batteries and cathodic protection devices. Makes entries in log books, records preventative maintenance activities and parts used, and submits reports.

8534-123 LASER-TRIMMER OPERATOR (electronic equip.)

Operates computerized laser-trimming system to trim excess material from electronic components, according to predetermined specifications:
Reads production sheet to determine functional laser settings required to meet cut-off point, turn, speed, power level and other manufacturing specifications. Enters codes and inputs specifications at keyboard on system console to modify and set up computerized laser commands. Inserts electronic component into vacuum chuck of system using tweezers. Depresses console buttons to activate laser beam that automatically trims precise amounts of excess metal and glass from components. Observes light indicators on control panel during trim sequence to detect irregularities, and removes trimmed components from chuck. Evaluates trim quality using light microscope, and keeps production and quality control records. Adjusts system components,

8534-124 ASSEMBLER, SURFACE MOUNTED CIRCUIT BOARDS (electronic equip.)

Assembles miniature electronic components on ceramic panels using automated production line equipment, to manufacture surface mounted circuit boards for use in communications equipment:

Coats ceramic panel with solder paste using printer-screening machine to deposit even adhesive layer along surface of panel. Operates computer controlled component mounting machine to automatically position components on adhesive bed of panel, according to specifications. Places panel on belt of conveyor fed oven to fire components, convert paste into solder, and to firmly secure components onto panel surface. Repeats process to apply paste, mount and secure components to opposite side of panel. Immerses panel in vapour degreasing machine to remove excess solder, dirt and dust from panel. Sets cutting guides and operates shearing machine to cut out individual boards from panel. Positions, glues and hand solders larger, non-machine mountable components, such as, switches and connectors, onto boards. Tests assembly using functional and computerized testing devices to identify defective units. Isolates faults, and removes and replaces components, to rework and repair defective units and reduce wastage. Labels, packages and boxes fully assembled, functional surface mounted circuit boards. Keeps production and test records.

8535-105 ELECTRONIC TECHNICIAN, DRILLING RIG (electronic equip.)

Maintains and repairs electronic systems, equipment and controls, computerized data systems, microprocessors and other electronic devices on board drilling platform or vessel at sea:

Checks functioning of computers, interface units, transducers and peripheral devices of data management system, and rig-positioning and thruster control systems. Cleans and inspects component parts such as, air filters, printed circuit boards, connectors, magnetic-tape heads, disk drives, cassette units, hard-copy printers and keyboards. Adjusts power supply levels, aligns cathode-ray tube displays and calibrates transducers according to instructions of technical manuals. Diagnoses system malfunctions, using wiring diagrams and multimeter, oscilloscope and other test equipment. Repairs or replaces parts such as, relays, switches, potentiometers, sensors, transducers and printed circuit cards. Tests, adjusts and repairs electronic circuitry of power conversion system and switchboard controls. Performs functional checks, calibrates and aligns radar and replaces defective items. Inspects components and checks operation of satellite navigation system, direction-finder and master gyro system. Functionally checks operation of drill re-entry remote television system, troubleshoots and repairs or replaces faulty printed circuit boards and aligns camera pan and tilt unit. Tests and services electronics for blowout preventer and other subsea equipment, applies pressure tests and adjusts power supply levels of system. Repairs telephone units and replaces printed circuit boards in telephone system computer. Verifies output of radio system transmitters, aligns transceivers, maintains antenna systems and replaces defective components. Verifies operation and calibrates position monitoring indicators and services hydrophones and beacons according to specifications. Troubleshoots and calibrates drill-floor instrumentation, tank gauging systems, ballast and bilge instrumentation and fire and gas detection systems. Makes entries in log books, records maintenance activities and parts used and submits reports.

8535-106 CADD/CAM REPAIR TECHNICIAN (electronic equip.)

Installs and repairs computer-aided drafting/design (CADD) graphic workstations and computer-aided manufacturing (CAM) systems equipment:

Reads and interprets work orders, installation, service and repair manuals, schematics and logic and mechanical diagrams, to determine equipment specifications and nature of required repairs. Fabricates cables and connectors to connect peripherals and components, using cable preparation tools. Interconnects CADD/CAM systems to peripherals and related equipment, according to manufacturers' installation procedures. Demonstrates system equipment and peripherals for customer to ensure installation meets specifications. Cleans CADD/CAM systems equipment and ancillary devices. Lubricates switches and electrical contacts and replaces worn and defective parts. Makes routine system adjustments, alignments and calibrations. Determines tests to be conducted and selects and hooks up testing equipment, such as, multimeters, frequency counters and logic probes and analyzers, to measure equipment performance. Interprets and documents test results to ensure equipment performance meets specifications. Troubleshoots CADD/CAM systems and isolates faults to operator error or equipment malfunction. Isolates system equipment faults to subassemblies or to integrated circuits and components. Desolders, removes and replaces faulty components and subassemblies to repair CADD/CAM systems equipment. Aligns and adjusts equipment circuits and mechanical assemblies, using alignment equipment. Tests overall systems operation to ensure repaired equipment meets specifications. Keeps maintenance and repair records. May specialize and service either CADD, or CAM equipment.

8535-108 COMPUTER EQUIPMENT REPAIR TECHNICIAN (electronic equip.)

Installs and repairs computer equipment, such as, mini/micro computers, terminals, disk and tape drives, printers and plotters, computer VDUs and monitors, modems and software, according to specifications:

Reads and interprets manufacturers' installation and repair manuals and diagrams. Positions and interconnects computer systems, peripherals and related equipment, such as, power lines, printers and plotters, terminals, monitors, modems and bar code and magnetic strip readers, using cable preparation tools and soldering equipment. Loads and runs diagnostic and demonstration software and operates user controls, to demonstrate operation of equipment and ensure equipment performance meets specifications. Cleans equipment and lubricates switches and electrical contacts. Replaces worn, defective or missing parts and makes routine adjustments to maintain computer systems equipment. Selects and connects required test equipment, and interprets test results to determine operational status of system. Tests, visually inspects, aligns and substitutes parts to isolate equipment faults to subassembly or integrated circuits and components. Replaces suspect or faulty component or subassembly, such as, resistors, IC sockets, transformers, sensing units and circuit boards, and modules, using component insertion and extraction tools, and soldering equipment. Aligns and adjusts computer circuits and mechanical assemblies. Keeps maintenance and repair records. May install new options, features and patches in existing configurations.

8535-109 PROCESS-CONTROL EQUIPMENT REPAIRER (electronic equip.)

Installs, maintains and repairs electronic industrial process-control equipment used to monitor and control industrial and manufacturing processes:

Reads and interprets manuals and diagrams to install, maintain, test and repair equipment according to manufacturers' instructions and procedures. Fabricates multiconductor cables and connectors using hand tools. Interfaces and interconnects equipment using knowledge of serial and parallel communication systems, and digital and micro-processor circuits. Wires monitoring sensors and transmission equipment following circuit diagrams. Applies manufacturers' recommended system troubleshooting techniques to isolate faults to specific piece of equipment, peripheral, software or operator. Solders and desolders components and integrated circuits or circuit boards to install and replace faulty components. Aligns, adjusts and calibrates equipment using knowledge of hydraulics and pneumatics, and system specifications. Runs and interprets computer diagnostic routines to test systems and to install software modifications and patches. Keeps maintenance and repair records.

Installs, maintains and repairs electronic security alarm systems in residential, commercial and industrial properties:

Inspects premises, reads work order and checks drawings to determine location for specified equipment. Lays out wiring routes and cuts openings in walls, floors and frames using hand and power tools to prepare for installation. Mounts raceway or conduit and pulls wire through. Splices and identifies wire. Reads and interprets manufacturer's installation specifications. Installs magnetic and mechanical switches, foil, lacing, motion and other intruder and alarm devices, following set procedures. Connects wiring to devices according to schematic and tests and verifies wiring. Installs control panel and connects wiring. Programs panel and tests system using multimeters, oscilloscope and other test equipment to verify entire installation. Demonstrates system to familiarize customer with its operation. Explains seriousness of false alarms. Fastens warning decals to windows, doors and fences. Troubleshoots malfunctioning systems to determine nature and location of fault. Replaces and repairs faulty wiring, switches, micro-processor connectors and other components using soldering equipment and component insertion and extraction tools. Completes invoices, and warranty, installation and repair records.

8535-136 ELECTRONIC GAMES REPAIRER (electronic equip.)

Repairs electronic amusement games and related equipment from arcades, lounges, restaurants and other establishments:

Receives malfunctioning game or unit in repair shop and removes controls and cover panels to expose electrical circuitry and electronic micro-processing unit. Tests control switches and wiring for function, continuity and open or shorted circuits, using multimeter or specialized electronic test equipment. Connects oscilloscope to observe malfunctions in video displays or identify defects in central micro-processor that affect game play and operation. Replaces or repairs faulty wiring, switches, connections to micro-processor and other parts using small hand tools and soldering equipment. Reassembles, adjusts and aligns repaired units according to specifications and circuit diagrams. Replaces cover panels and controls, inserts coin in coin box and tests game to ensure it is fully operational.

8535-140 SATELLITE ANTENNA INSTALLER (electronic equip.)

Installs dish antennas for reception of television broadcasts directly from satellites:

Visits site selected for installation of antenna dish. Examines map of region and checks area for obstruction such as, buildings, trees and hills which would impair ability of antenna to receive signals. Reads charts and maps to determine azimuth and elevation of satellites to be tracked by dish. Selects specific location for antenna at site, checks north-south and east-west co-ordinates and magnetic deviation for area and plots angles with compass, protractor and level to verify clear view of satellites. Prepares concrete base in ground, or steel support frame for roof mounting of antenna. Bolts antenna support foot to concrete base, or mounting brackets to support frame and assembles dish on mounting plate. Installs motor drive unit, electronic components and wiring. Tests components for proper functioning, performs voltage checks and troubleshoots faults. Checks accuracy of antenna alignment and makes adjustments, using calibrated television receiver. May tow mobile antenna dish to site before starting installation and conduct tests to determine if dish can be used at that site.

8536-156 IN-CIRCUIT TEST OPERATOR (electronic equip.)

Operates computerized test equipment to detect and debug production defects in printed circuit boards:

Positions and secures holding fixture on system receiver. Connects system vacuum hose to vacuum port of fixture. Inserts circuit board in fixture and depresses power and vacuum switches to activate system. Loads test program and enters commands at keyboard, to commence testing. Monitors test reading indicators until test cycle ends and vacuum is automatically released. Removes system print-out from machine and tags print-out to board. Sorts accepted and rejected boards. Reads and interprets system print-outs attached to defective boards to determine nature and location of production defect. Debugs routine defects, such as, short and open circuits, and faulty or improperly inserted components, using ohmmeter and component soldering, insertion and extraction tools. Operates test equipment to investigate failed pre-analogue, analogue or digital messages. Forwards boards with major defects to repair technician for further testing and reworking. Notifies supervisor of defective component trends to arrange for supplier returns. Keeps testing records and prepares quality and reliability reports. May run system diagnostic programs to ensure test equipment meets operating specifications.

8537-112 CONSUMER PRODUCTS SERVICE TECHNICIAN (electronic equip.)

Installs, services and repairs a variety of consumer audio and video products, such as, radios, stereo equipment and televisions: Specializes in repairing audio and video home entertainment equipment. Checks work order for customer address, fault description, warranty status and other pertinent information. Reads and interprets repair manuals and diagrams to determine equipment disassembly and repair sequences. Disassembles equipment according to manufacturers' disassembly instructions using hand tools. Cleans heads, styli, picture tube, lenses and mirrors using air brush, cleaning fluids and swabs. Applies visual inspection, component substitution and equipment adjustment troubleshooting techniques to identify probable location and cause of fault. Selects and connects testing equipment, such as, frequency counters, logic probes and oscilloscope to measure unit output. Interprets test results to isolate fault to integrated circuit or components. Removes and replaces suspect components or subassemblies using component insertion and extraction tools and soldering equipment. Adjusts and aligns mechanical and electronic assemblies according to manufacturers' specifications using knowledge of precision mechanisms and fine mechanical adjustments. Replaces worn, defective and missing parts, such as, belts, screws and indicator lights. Lubricates switches and electrical outlets, and reassembles unit. Installs audio and video equipment according to manufacturers' instructions and customers' preferences. Verifies installation, demonstrates operation of equipment and explains warranty coverage available. Completes work order and claim forms.

Assembles, tests and repairs avionics equipment such as inertial guidance systems, autopilots, navigational displays, position indicators, gyroscopes and flight instruments:

Examines diagrams and manufacturer's instructions or specifications to determine procedures and parts requirements. Fabricates wiring harnesses on harness boards and solders or crimps connectors to wire ends. Selects and solders resistors, diodes, transistors, capacitors, integrated circuits and other specified parts onto wiring or printed circuit boards. Trims, strips and bends wire ends to form leads, fits insulating materials and clamps and connects wiring to terminals. Assembles electronic, mechanical or electro-mechanical components using microscope or eye loop, small hand tools, adhesives and epoxies. Aligns and installs sub-assemblies such as accelerometers, servo mechanisms, gyros and gear trains using assembly jigs, precision measuring instruments, screwdrivers, tweezers, wrenches and other small tools. Tests or calibrates assembled units according to specifications to ensure operational standards are met. Examines defective units, selects test equipment and applies appropriate tests to diagnose faults. Disassembles malfunctioning units and adjusts, repairs or replaces faulty components. Reassembles and tests repaired units.

8539-119 WAFER FABRICATION OPERATOR (electronic equip.)

Operates wafer fabricating equipment in laboratory setting, to produce micro-electronic circuits:

Reads run card instructions to determine batch specifications. Loads partially processed silicon wafers into handling cassette, using flip transfer device. Operates film coating device to spin and soft bake photoresist on wafers, or submerges cassette in chemical etch bath to coat wafers with film of light sensitive photoresist. Loads wafers onto alignment chuck. Aligns wafer to be masked, using microscopic viewing device. Masks wafers with stencil of patterned circuitry and exposes pattern onto photoresist coat. Operates development equipment to strip away unexposed photoresist and oxides. Inspects wafers, using microscope, to ensure integrity of process. Repeats masking and stripping steps, according to complexity of circuits required. Operates equipment to implant wafers with dopants to form negative and positive conducting zones, and builds successive chemical layering on wafers. Condenses aluminum or other metal onto wafers to fill gaps in outline and form conducting pathways. Operates chemical vapour deposition system to deposit final coat of silicon dioxide onto wafers. Records processing information on run cards, for quality control purposes.

Operates furnace to deposit and diffuse ultra-thin films of various chemical mixtures onto wafers. Observes movement of carrier through furnace and monitors temperature and pressure gauges. Removes carrier from furnace and separates and replaces test wafers in carriers. Reloads carrier in furnace. Examines and measures thickness of deposited layer on test wafers, using film thickness gauging devices, to ensure processing specifications are met. Records measurements in log book and on run cards, for quality control purposes. Operates optical and scanning electron microscopes to verify film coverage, examine grain sizes and to check for defects. Reports discrepancies to supervisor. Makes scheduled system checks to ensure gases are turned on, in sufficient supply, and at correct pressures. Cleans and maintains equipment and facilities.

Aligns fully processed wafer on holding device. Tests individual chips on wafer, using probing instrument, to identify and mark defective chips. Operates wafer sawing device to make partial depth cut along paths on wafer. Rinses wafer in di-ionized water to remove dust and powder. Dices chips from wafer. Removes marked defective chips, using vacuum pencil. Inspects individual circuits for flaws, using high magnification microscope. Mounts chips on printed circuit board or carrier. Solders connecting wires to bond chip with connectors. Seals integrated circuits to protect circuitry. Stamps identification information, such as, date, batch number and customer codes, onto printed circuit board or carrier. Records assembly information on batch sheet during each stage of assembly, for quality control purposes.

Operates fur sewing machine to join strips of fur into pelt of required size and shape (dropped pelt) and to join pelts into garment pieces or shells:

Receives instructions on required size and shape of pelt to be assembled. Selects thread and threads fur sewing machine. Cuts margin of precut fur pelt to separate pelt into strips, using furrier's knife. Positions fur strips together under needle of fur sewing machine. Presses pedals, levers or buttons to start, stop and control operation of fur sewing machine. Guides fur strips evenly by hand throughout sewing procedure. Sews sufficient fur strips together to form required dropped pelt. Sews dropped pelts together as directed to form sleeves, body and other fur garment parts. Sews garment parts together to form garment shell. Cleans and lubricates sewing machine.

8562-111 CUSTOM UPHOLSTERER (furn.)

Fabricates one-of-a-kind custom-made pieces of traditional or modern upholstered furniture according to customer specifications:

Reads and interprets drawings or makes shop drawing of article based on customer's description to determine line and shape elements and to prepare layouts and material cutting lists. Selects fabric, leather or other covering material according to pattern, texture and color requirements using knowledge of upholstery materials. Spreads layers of material and plots and traces cutting pattern on surface. Cuts out pieces of material using scissors and powered cutting tools and marks pieces with instructions for sewer. Lifts pre-fabricated frame of article and places it on work bench. Positions, stretches and nails webbing material to bottom of frame. Selects, installs and ties together coil or sinuous type springs in seat and back of frame. Measures, cuts and attaches burlap to cover springs. Lays out and cuts to size padding materials, such as, foam rubber, cotton felt and cardboard. Places pre-cut covering material over seat springs and staples fabric to frame using pneumatic stapler. Attaches padding to front rail and staples material to seat front rail. Repeats operation to upholster arms. Places, shapes and staples layers of padding and covering material over inside back to complete inside upholstery. Installs padding and covering material along top and bottom of outside arms and outside back using pneumatic stapler. Aligns, cuts, fits, pulls and stretches pre-sewn covering materials to obtain specified contour of article. Folds, pleats and staples material to impart desired finish. Attaches cover and panels, gimp, welts, valance skirts and other trim using glue, staples and tacks. Performs deep-buttoning and diamond tufting according to decorative finish requirements. Finishes show-wood using lacquers, shellacs, varnishes and enamels. May restore antique furniture following period upholstery methods. May upholster production models and samples.

8562-119 PRODUCTION UPHOLSTERER (furn.)

Upholsters furniture, such as, sofas, arm chairs, loveseats and sectional groupings on a production basis by performing a combination of upholstery operations at work station on progressive assembly line: Obtains cart and basket containing padding and stuffing, pre-sewn covering material and furniture frame. Examines frame and reads production card to determine type, style and model of article to be produced. Installs sinuous springs and connectors to seat and inside back of frame using hammer and metal clips, or works with pre-mounted spring frames. Lays out and secures pre-cut foam rubber, matting, felt and cardboard to seat, back and arms of frames using pneumatic stapler. Tacks or staples pre-sewn seat decking material over seat springs. Fits pre-sewn upholstery material to seat front rail, inside arms and inside back of frame, matches direction of pattern and pile, and staples, glues or sews material into place. Aligns, fits and stretches material over outside arms and outside back and tacks material into position. Installs trim items according to finishing requirements. Inserts leg units into pre-drilled frame. May make furniture using moulded plastic frames and foam.

Sets up and adjusts programmable plastics moulding machines and directs production activities to produce plastic parts: Performs duties of 8573-110 PLASTICS-MOULDING-MACHINE SETTER (plastic prod.). Reads process control sheets to determine product specifications. Makes processing recommendations, using thorough knowledge of plastic raw materials, production machines, moulding and quality control procedures. Enters process codes on control panel key pad to set programmable controller to job specifications. Assigns machine operators to machines and patrols designated area of plant to direct production activities. Monitors video screen and checks other control panel indicators to ensure quality standards are met. Adjusts machine settings by entering codes on control panel key pad to eliminate production defects. Troubleshoots and isolates mechanical malfunctions, by calling up pertinent machine data on video screen, to determine nature and location of deviation. Corrects malfunction, using hand tools and testing equipment, or requests major repair assistance. Makes recommendations concerning machine preventative maintenance schedules, general housekeeping and safety. Tests new or reconditioned moulds. Prepares production and maintenance reports. Weighs and mixes pelletized or powdered thermoplastic materials and colouring pigments in tumbling machine according to formula. Sets heat controls and assembles and inserts breaker plates. Selects and installs die insert according to job specifications and aligns and centres die gap using wrenches and gauges. Connects raw material feed lines and sets blending controls to ensure raw material mixture conforms to job requirements. Checks liquid level, pressure gauge and air flow indicating instruments to ensure equipment is operational. Examines, touches and measures product for strength, gauge, width and colour to ensure product adheres to customer's requirements. Makes adjustments to heating, treatment, tension and cutting controls during production, to control film quality. 8573-165 PIPE EXTRUSION MACHINE OPERATOR (plastic prod.)

Sets up and operates plastic extrusion machines and auxiliary downstream equipment to produce plastic pipes, tubing, cylinders and related products:

Reads and interprets job sheets to determine production variables, such as, raw material specifications, product length, size and quantity requirements, and heat and line speed running conditions. Checks machine safety devices, such as, guards, safety bars and warning lights, and replaces non-functioning devices. Installs die assembly, machine screws, sizing rings and breaker plates using hand tools. Couples hose to die to circulate water, air and oil to die, and connects material feed lines using wrenches. Installs and aligns auxiliary downstream equipment, such as, vacuum and cooling tanks, cut-off saws and coolers in sequence and according to set-up sheet instructions, using clamps and hand tools. Starts extruder and downstream equipment and opens water, air and hydraulic fluid supply lines to commence production. Shapes extruded tube and cylindrical forms using vacuum, profile or plug production methods, to meet customer specifications. Monitors production, examines samples for defects and measures key sample dimensions to control product quality. Reduces heat, closes vacuum vent and raw material feed system and disconnects downstream equipment to shutdown processing equipment. Keeps

Cast and moulds synthetic marble products, such as, counter tops and basins, and bath and shower wall panels:

Reads work order to determine job specifications. Weighs and measures synthetic marble ingredients, such as, ground marble filler, resin, colour pigment and catalyst according to formula. Pours ingredients into mixing machine and activates mixer to process batch ingredients. Applies even wax coats to fibreglass mould sections using soft cloth, to enhance release and separation of products from mould. Sprays smoothing agents and sanitary gel coat over waxed mould surface, using spray gun, to impart appropriate finish to synthetic marble products. Measures thickness of sprayed coats, using gauge, to ensure specifications are met. Allows prepared mould sections to dry for appropriate period, according to temperature and humidity levels in room. Assembles cast, using bolts, and clamps to attach mould sections. Pours and applies layers of material mix, by hand, to fill the mould and form the product. Activates vibrating table to eliminate air bubbles and to ensure even application of material mix. Allows cast to harden and form part. Disassembles and overturns mould to remove part and carries part to drying rack for curing. Trims flash from edges of part using power tools. Polishes surface of part, by hand, and rubs in compounds to seal surface and remove blemishes and imperfections. Boxes and crates parts for shipping. Cleans and maintains mould sections.

8581-112 VEHICLE TECHNICIAN (military)

Repairs and maintains engines, transmissions, suspension systems and bodies of automobiles, buses, trucks, jeeps, and wheeled and tracked vehicles operated by Canadian Forces:

Performs duties as described under master title, 01-300 SERVICE-MAN/WOMAN (military). Operates winches, jacks, traction devices, booms, A-Frames, tow trucks and special recovery vehicles to recover wheeled or tracked vehicles. Drives and operates vehicles to diagnose faults. Operates workshop equipment such as floor creepers, floor jacks, axle stands, chain hoists, overhead cranes, hydraulic jacks and lifting cranes. Assists in diagnosing faults in engine assembly, using precision tools, instruments and electronic analyzers. Adjusts valves, rocker-arm assemblies, oil filters and fuel injectors. Assists in diagnosing faults in power-train systems, and adjusts clutches, support housings, differentials, torque converters, fluid couplings, controls and linkages. Services, adjusts or replaces brake equipment and parts. Removes and replaces master cylinders and wheel cylinders. Maintains and aligns frame and steering and suspension systems. Maintains cooling and exhaust systems. Prepares and maintains technical reports.

8581-115 FUEL SYSTEM CONVERSION INSTALLER (motor vehicle)

Installs propane and natural gas fuel systems in conventionally fuelled motor vehicles, to convert vehicles for alternate fuel operation:

Performs duties of 8581-110 MOTOR VEHICLE MECHANIC (motor vehicle). Conducts pre-conversion vehicle inspection to determine if conversion is in owners best interest. Removes excess components from gasoline or diesel engines, using hand and power tools. Installs propane or natural gas fuel system components, such as, fuel storage tanks, and associated valves and fittings, pressure regulator assemblies and fuel line tubing. Tests fuel system for leaks and proper operation. Adjusts ignition system and carburetor to ensure efficient engine operation. Advises owner on refuelling, operating and servicing matters. Conducts preventative maintenance checks at regular intervals and services vehicle, as required. Converts vehicles for dual fuel operation. May inspect installations completed by other installers.

Repairs and overhauls commercial trucks and municipal, school and inter-city buses:

Inspects vehicle, reads work order and discusses nature and extent of repairs with service writer and/or shop supervisor. Selects and connects test equipment, such as, dynamometers, electrical meters and analyzers, ohmmeters and timing lights to locate malfunction. Reads and interprets service and repair manuals and diagrams to determine repair procedures required. Repairs and overhauls gasoline, diesel, propane and natural gas-powered engines and engine starting systems according to manufacturers' recommended repair sequences, using mechanics hand tools. Inspects, rebuilds, adjusts, repairs and replaces power train systems, such as clutches and components, manual and automatic transmissions, front and rear end differentials, and front and rear end axles. Reconditions, replaces and adjusts components of manually operated, hydraulic and air-assisted steering systems, using hand and power tools and machine shop equipment. Examines and replaces vehicle suspension systems, and tires, wheels and components. Tests, replaces and adjusts mechanical, hydraulic and air components

8581-119 AUTOMOTIVE TECHNICIAN, ENGINE AND FUEL SYSTEM REPAIRS (motor vehicle)

Tests, services and repairs gasoline, diesel, natural gas and propane powered automobile engines and fuel systems:

Confers with service advisor or shop foreman/woman and inspects vehicle to isolate fault to engine or fuel system. Reads and interprets manufacturers' service information to determine testing and sequential repair operations required to locate and correct malfunction. Diagnoses mechanical condition of engine components and systems using oscilloscope and tachometer to isolate malfunctions. Tests automobile engine performance using portable diagnostic computer. Evaluates repairability of engine, estimates cost of repairs and advises customer. Disconnects and removes engine from vehicle and mounts engine on work stand using hand and power tools and engine hoisting, slinging and rigging equipment. Inspects external engine components and disassembles engine to inspect internal components. Replaces and repairs worn or damaged components, reassembles engine and installs engine in vehicle. Diagnoses fuel delivery system using testing equipment and other manufacturer recommended troubleshooting techniques. Removes and replaces defective fuel delivery system components and repairs emission control systems. Diagnoses engine electronics to isolate performance problems caused by faulty electronic components and replaces defective electronic engine management system components. Tests and services conventional electronic and computer controlled ignition systems.

8581-120 AUTOMOTIVE TECHNICIAN, FRONT-END SYSTEMS (motor vehicle)

Tests, services and repairs automotive front-end systems, such as, steering, suspension, brakes, drive lines, wheels and tires:
Reads work order and performs preliminary diagnoses to isolate automotive system fault to front-end of vehicle. Interprets manufacturers' service and repair manuals and accesses information stored on microfiche and computer based storage systems to identify repair procedures and sequences and to select test equipment, tools and replacement parts required. Inspects tires and wheels for wear and damage using knowledge of legal wear limits and standards. Replaces, rotates, balances and repairs tires. Tests braking systems following manufacturers' recommended testing procedure to determine causes for driving performance problems. Examines and repairs drive lines and axles for front wheel and four wheel drive vehicles. Checks and replaces faulty front and rear suspension systems. Inspects and repairs manual and power steering systems, steering columns and steering linkage components. Diagnoses and repairs electronic steering, load leveling, ride control, suspension and anti-lock/anti-skid braking systems using electronic diagnostic scanners and testing equipment. Checks geometric values for vehicle using alignment rack and aligns and repairs vehicle based on measurements obtained. Ensures that all parts requiring replacement have been removed and that newly installed parts are positioned, adjusted and correctly fastened. Road tests vehicle and completes work order.

Tests, services and repairs automatic transmissions for motor vehicles: Inspects motor vehicle, conducts stall and road tests and applies other troubleshooting techniques to isolate automotive fault to automatic transmission. Reads and interprets manufacturers' service manual and diagrams to identify repair procedures and required tools, equipment and replacement parts. Conducts pressure tests and interprets in-car electronic diagnostic systems to isolate transmission problems. Removes and replaces suspect automatic transmission components using hand and power tools to perform on-vehicle transmission repairs. Disconnects and removes rear and front wheel drive and mid-engine mounted transaxles and transmissions from automobiles in preparation for major repairs. Disassembles transmissions following written and diagrammatic procedures and removes worn or damaged parts. Tests, checks and replaces suspect units, and reassembles transmission. Installs and connects repaired transaxles and transmissions in vehicle using transmission jacks, hoist, torque wrenches and other shop tools and equipment. Diagnoses and repairs transmission electronic control systems using on-board self diagnostics and multi-purpose scanners. Inspects and repairs drive lines. Evaluates quality of repair work performed and documents repair.

8581-132 RECREATION-VEHICLE REPAIRER (motor vehicle)

Services and repairs recreation vehicles such as trailers, campers and motor homes:

Examines vehicle and discusses nature of malfunction or damage with owner to assess extent of repairs required. Inspects and tests functional units, wiring, piping and components such as switches, electrical motors and valves to determine specific repairs or replacements needed. Prepares cost estimates, orders parts and plans work, referring to manufacturer's parts lists, diagrams and manuals. Disassembles and repairs or replaces stoves, heaters, pumps and other malfunctioning units. Tests electrical systems of recreational vehicle using electrical test instruments. Repairs or replaces electrical wiring, plumbing and propane gas lines, using materials such as insulating tape, electrical connectors, caulking compound, copper and plastic piping and fittings, and standard hand and plumbing tools. Checks for leaks in water, refrigeration and propane gas systems using pressure gauges, manometers and gas-leak detectors. Removes and repairs or replaces damaged exterior panels and seal leaks. Repairs and replaces structural frame members. Repairs and refinishes interior cabinetry, windows and doors, using hand and power tools and wood or sheet-metal working techniques. Installs towing hook-up in accordance with manufacturer's specifications regarding proper hitch selection, weight, brake controls, mirrors, wiring and lights. Installs accessories such as air conditioners, T.V. antennas and awnings, applying knowledge of recreational vehicle construction. Inspects new vehicles before delivery in accordance with manufacturer's instructions and motor vehicle regulations. Winterizes recreation vehicles by draining water and sewage systems and placing non-toxic anti-freeze in specified locations and traps.

8581-144 AUTOMOBILE RADIO AND ACCESSORIES INSTALLER (motor vehicle)

Installs and services car radios and other electronic or electrically operated accessories such as, cruise controls, driving computers, theft alarms and power windows, antennas and door locks:

Dismantles dashboard or removes inside door panels or upholstery, using small hand tools to gain access to car wiring for installation of equipment ordered by customer. Installs wiring harnesses, cuts and crimps wire ends and makes connections to car electrical system as specified in wiring schematics for equipment. Drills or cuts out mounting holes and screws brackets in place for components being installed. Mounts tuners, speakers, antennas and other units of radio or stereo system, connects wiring and tests operation of set. Installs throttle linkages, pick-up coils, switches and other component parts of electronic cruise controls or driving computers, according to drawings and specifications. Installs engine performance instruments or computerized digital indicators showing parameters such as, tachometer, oil temperature and pressure, water temperature, voltmeter and fuel consumption. Connects wiring for cruise control, driving computer or instruments to appropriate circuitry of car, starts engine to check operation of equipment, makes adjustments and road tests or calibrates equipment to vehicle. Installs and tests automobile theft alarms, electric trunk and door lock systems and power windows and antennas. Tests malfunctioning accessories, diagnoses faults and removes and replaces defective units for repair or return to manufacturer.

8584-140 PLASTICS PROCESSING EQUIPMENT MECHANIC (mech. equip., n.e.c.; plastic prod.)

Maintains, troubleshoots and repairs plastics moulding machines: Observes and listens to machine to isolate malfunction. Dismantles equipment, using hand tools, to remove suspect part(s). Examines form and texture of part and uses precision measuring tools to detect part deterioration and wear. Operates metalworking machines, such as, lathes, mills and grinders to make new part or repair existing ones. Replaces bearings, seals, gears and belts. Maintains moulding machines hydraulic and pneumatic systems, according to established maintenance schedule. Replaces defective electrical components to maintain electrical machine circuits. Troubleshoots basic electronic machine faults, using electronic testing equipment. Reads and interprets detailed drawings and repair manuals. Inspects parts produced by machines to detect flaws. Assists 8573-110 PLASTICS-MOULDING-MACHINE SETTER (plastic prod.) with machine set-up, start-up and try out procedures. Cleans and maintains moulds. Services programmable controls and programs basic moulding cycles, according to instructions provided by manufacturer. Prepares maintenance and production reports. Informs maintenance department when major repair work is required.

Operates self-propelled machine equipped with telescopic boom to excavate, load, level, ditch, slope, spread and clean out earth and other materials, and to break and rip up pavement, concrete abutments and other structures at construction or other industrial site:

Operates hand and foot controls to drive machine to work site or onto tractor-trailer for transportation to work site. Operates controls to position machine according to instructions or hand signals. Attaches excavating, ditching, concrete removal or other type of bucket, hammer drill, blade, scaling or ripping bar or other device to telescopic boom using hand tools. Operates machine controls to excavate, grade, spread and load earth and other materials; to trench, trim, slope and clean ditches; to drill, break and rip up pavement; to scale slag from mill furnaces; to clear snow off bridges and ice from ditches; to remove tree stumps and to perform other construction operations. Services machine and makes minor repairs.

8713-140 INTERLOCKING PAVING STONE INSTALLER (construction)

Installs interlocking paving stones to construct patios, walkways, driveways and swimming pool decks, working alone or as member of crew:

Prepares initial sketch of installation or works with plan provided by property owner. Obtains clearance from utility company to ensure excavation avoids subsurface lines. Measures and stakes out area to be paved. Operates front-end loader to excavate driveways and uses shovel, scrapers and other hand tools to excavate walkways and patios. Provides proper slope for drainage as specified by local building code. Compacts exposed subsoil using compacting machine. Installs, levels and compacts layers of crushed stone to construct sub-base. Spreads and levels layer of stone dust or coarse sand to prepare bedding course. Lays individual interlocking pavers onto bedding course in desired arrangement. Cuts paving stones using stone splitter or masonry saw. Tamps down paved surface using tamping machine to produce uniform surface and to bed stones securely in stone dust or sand. Spreads course sand over surface and sweeps away excess sand to fill joints. Removes and replaces discoloured, cracked, or chipped paving stones. May lay flag stones and patio stones.

Installs, services and repairs industrial, commercial and domestic refrigeration cooling and air-conditioning systems:
Lays out reference points at specified locations for installation of condenser, compressor and evaporator units and ancillary components required for type of system being installed. Drills or cuts holes in walls and floor of building and installs brackets and mountings for equipment, using portable power and hand tools. Screws or bolts components into position. Measures, cuts, flares and bends piping to fabricate refrigerant lines that connect units. Attaches piping to refrigeration units and system components according to drawings and specifications, using a variety of pipe fittings and hand tools, and solders joints in piping to form circulatory system for refrigerant. Installs functional components such as motors, fans, filters, thermostats and switches. Charges system with refrigerant to specified level. Starts up system, checks pressure and temperature gauges and adjusts valves and controls to regulate operation of equipment. Tests refrigerant lines with gas-leak tester to detect leaks. Repairs leaks and recharges system with refrigerant. Assesses mal- functions to isolate faults and identify defective or improperly adjusted components. Dismantles equipment in system, test controls and sub-assemblies and replaces defective or worn parts to make repairs.

8735-184 FIBRE-OPTIC CABLE SPLICER (telecom.)

Joins fibre-optic cables used in high capacity communications and data transmission links for applications such as telephone systems, computer networks and industrial instrumentation and controls:

Assembles parts, tools and equipment for use on site. Prepares work site by erecting shelter tent on utility pole or putting up traffic barricades and removing manhole cover from underground installation. Sets up work space lighting and ventilation and positions tools, splicing equipment and test instrumentation. Cuts fibre-optic cable and strips covering to expose specified length of fibre ends. Cleans bared fibre with solvent and using a special cutting tool, cleaves fibre ends for joining. Positions and clamps prepared glass fibre ends in fusion splicing machine, inspects fibre cleaves through microscope and activates splicer. Removes spliced glass fibre from splicing machine and confirms with operator of test instrumentation that splice is made correctly as indicated on oscilloscope. Places spliced fibres in splice organizer and completes closure of splice in accordance with specifications. Pressurizes and tests cable sheathing. May join plastic fibre-optic cables using similar techniques to prepare fibre ends as for glass fibre fusion splicing, by using epoxy to attach fibres to mechanical connectors for completion of splice.

8781-108 LOG BUILDER (construction)

Constructs, renovates and repairs log structures:

Reads blueprints to estimate material requirements. Purchases logs from supplier, or selects and fells trees with chain saw and saws felled trees into logs. Loads and transports logs to site using boom truck and flatbed trailer. Peels bark from logs using two-handled drawknife or spud. Secures log to prevent it from rolling and scribes or slabs log using chain saw, according to style of structure and method of construction selected. Hews slatted logs using broad axe and hand plane to smooth sides of logs. Stains logs using brush to preserve wood. Operates boom truck to lift and move logs onto foundation. Marks dove or saddle notch corners for cutting. Removes logs from foundation using boom truck and cuts desired corner joint using chain saw, chisel and broad axe. Repositions logs onto foundation and insulates logs laterally and at corners using spray foam or fibreglass insulation. Builds up walls following similar procedure. Drills hole through logs using hand drill and inserts wooden dowel to peg and secure logs. Cuts out door and window openings and installs key-ways to allow for settling. Chinks gaps between logs using wire mesh and mortar mixture. Raises stringer onto top of walls using boom truck and bolts stringer in place. Cuts out grooves in stringer and fits beams into grooves to construct ceiling support. Erects framework of roof and lays floors and roofing materials. Frames interior of structure and installs finishing items such as, doors, windows, stairs, vanities, moulding and hardware. Arranges sub-contracts for electrical wiring, heating and plumbing, and for cement, stone and brickwork. Repairs log structures. Directs other workers when required. May erect log structure on

8787-111 ROOFER, TILE (construction)

Covers roofs of structures with cement, masonry or baked clay roofing tile to form a protective and waterproof surface:

Studies specifications, visits work site and inspects roof to plan installation. Measures roof and calculates amount of underlay, strapping material and quantity of tile required. Rolls out, cuts and nails underlay to surface of roof. Measures and cuts wooden strapping material to required lengths, and nails strapping horizontally over underlay at measured intervals, according to type and size of tile to be installed. Transports tile to deck of roof, manually, or using mechanical hoisting equipment. Mixes and applies roofing mortar and embeds tile in mortar, along edge of roofing surface. Lays tile over strapping and nails tile in place. Overlaps, interlocks and nails successive rows of tile to complete side of roof, and checks uniformity of installation. Caps roof peaks, hips and ridges using roofing mortar to secure tile. Cuts, fits and installs metal flashing in valleys and around chimneys or vents. Caulks all seams and joints, as required. Repairs tiled roofs by removing and replacing damaged tiles. Directs labourers and helpers during various stages of installation.

Calculates capacity of system required, and installs hot water tanks, hot and cold water piping, septic tanks and distribution fields according to health regulations. Installs, tests and repairs oil and gas burning appliances and equipment, and associated electrical circuits. Installs water pumps and fire hydrants. Locates underground piping and leaks, using electronic-detecting equipment. Locates faults, and repairs or replaces components in sewers and water mains, venting, domestic hot and cold water pipes, and steam, hot water and warm air heating systems. Dismantles, replaces parts and reassembles pumps. Fabricates sheet-metal ducts, repairs and replaces smoke pipes, eavestroughs and flashing. Prepares

8791-135 PIPELINE REHABILITATION WORKER (construction)

Cleans and coats pipeline systems, such as, existing sewer and water-mains and industrial effluent pipes with cement-mortar lining, to improve flow rates and reduce corrosion:

Reads work plans and engineering drawings, and confers with municipal or industrial personnel to determine scope of project and to identify material requirements. Removes drain and manhole covers, or directs excavating equipment operator to expose pipe. Cuts into pipeline, to gain access to pipe, if required. Cleans work area of gas using blower, and isolates section of pipeline. Lowers cleaning and coating equipment into pipeline using hoisting device and lays flexible hose to convey cement-mortar mixture between points. Operates mechanical winch to pull spring-bladed scrapers through isolated sections of pipe and descale pipe walls. Winches piston-type wire brushes and rubber disc squeegees through pipe to remove refuse. Signals truck driver to dump wet cement-mortar mixture into hopper of mixing-pumping machine, or empties bags of cement into hopper. Tends machine to mix cement-mortar and force mixture through hose under pressure to coating equipment positioned in underground pipe. Draws lining machine through pipe using mechanical winch, to automatically fling cement-mortar mixture against interior surface of pipe. Pulls drag trowel device, equipped with flexible metal blades through pipe, to smooth lining to desired thickness. Closes reconditioned section of pipe to maintain moist conditions for predetermined period and cure cement-mortar lining. Operates tire mounted, electronically powered lining machine inside large pipes to recondition large bore piping systems. Disconnects hoses, removes equipment from manhole and cleans equipment at completion of project. Adjusts and lubricates moving parts to maintain pumps, compressors and mechanical winches. Conducts internal inspections of drains and sewers using closed circuit television equipment, to examine and record sewage system conditions. May recondition new or salvaged pipe on surface site, using spinning rig device, to compact and spread even layer of cement-mortar along surface of pipe. May supervise and direct activities of work crew.

Performs duties similar to those of 8791-135 PIPELINE REHABILITATION WORKER (construction), but specializes in installing felt tube liners in deteriorated pipe systems. Inserts inversion stand-pipe in manhole or existing entry point. Feeds liner into stand-pipe by hand. Connects water hoses to pumping machine and attaches end of hose to top of stand-pipe. Activates water pump to force water into liner and invert resin coated liner inside out, using the weight of water. Maintains water pressure to push liner along length and against walls of damaged pipe section. Tends water circulating equipment with attached heating source, to circulate hot water throughout section and cure the resins. Monitors temperature gauges of incoming and outgoing water to ensure process temperatures are maintained. Opens cold water valve and gradually increases flow to cool liner and commence curing process. Dismantles, cleans and lubricates equipment. May insert and connect high density polyethylene pipes within existing, deteriorating pipe to rehabilitate pipeline systems.

INDEX SECTION

INTRODUCTION

The new CCDO Index is a large but highly functional arrangement of job and occupational titles. Studies have revealed that using the original Alphabetical Index of Occupational Titles was the most common method of locating occupations. However, most users found the 1971 Index to be a complex and confusing affair, so the new CCDO Index has been both simplified and greatly expanded. For the first time it is comprised of job titles as well as occupational titles. It now totals some 30,000 titles, more than double the number of entries found in the 1971 Index. All of the original occupational titles have been included, with the exception of those found to be obsolete. Many new titles have been added as a result of revisions to certain Major Groups in the past years, and others have been acquired through intensive job and occupational studies. Numerous users have provided information on previous discrepancies, such as obsolete or incorrectly classified titles, and it is our earnest hope that such contributions will continue. Any information which might help to maintain the accuracy and precision of the CCDO and its Index may be directed to:

Chief, Operations Division
Occupational and Career
Information Branch
Employment and Immigration Canada
Place du Portage, Phase IV, 5th Floor
OTTAWA/HULL, K1A 0J9

Users of the CCDO who are unable to locate a specific occupation or its title may direct enquiries to the same address, observing the following procedure:

1. Indicate the originator's name, address and telephone number;
2. Commence all communications with subject heading: "Coding Enquiry";
3. Give the job title(s) by which the occupation is known;
4. Indicate the industry;
5. Describe the job duties in full;
6. Describe the education and experience normally required to perform these duties.

Replies to coding enquiries will be made without delay.

While the new Index is much larger than its predecessor, it has also been made simpler and more convenient to use. Only two types of occupational titles are now listed, these being the official CCDO Title and Additional Titles.

The CCDO Title (previously identified as the Base Title) is the title by which an occupation is most commonly known in Canada, or which is most descriptive of the nature of the occupation. Printed in bold-face, upper-case font, the CCDO Title appears with the appropriate industry designation(s) and seven-digit code: e.g. FEATHER RENOVATOR (laund., clean. & press.) 6198-154. The CCDO Title is now the only occupation title to appear with the occupational description in the revised CCDO.

Additional Titles is the collective term given to all previous alternate, related, and example titles, as well as the various job titles which are now included. These are simply titles by which an occupation may be known in different parts of the country or in a variety of industries. An Additional Title may also be supplied to reflect a more specific work situation than that expressed by the CCDO Title. For example, 8735-142 PROTECTIVE-SIGNAL SERVICER (telecom.) has such Additional Titles as burglar-alarm servicer and fire-alarm servicer. An Additional Title may serve the further function of assisting the user to locate occupations whose titles have been changed so that they are no longer sex-discriminatory. Such previous titles as REPAIRMAN and FOREMAN Now appear as Additional Titles to CCDO Titles replacing them, REPAIRER and FOREMAN/WOMAN respectively. Like the CCDO Titles, Additional Titles appear with the appropriate industry designation(s) and seven-digit code number, but they are printed in bold-face, lower-case font:

asphalt-spreader operator (construction) 8713-114.

Additional Titles appear in the CCDO Index but they are not included in the occupational descriptions.

A list of industry designations and their abbreviations follow the CCDO Index of Job/Occupational Titles. Entries in upper-case font are actual industry designations, and those in lower-case font are inversions provided to assist the user in their identification and location. In the last part of the CCDO Index, definitions are provided for each of the 96 Industry Designations.

* Asterisks appearing opposite titles in the Index of Job/Occupational Titles denote titles of occupations described in this Guide, published on pages 45 to 139.

DEFINITIONS OF INDUSTRY DESIGNATIONS

The following descriptions of industry designations are arranged alphabetically by industry title.

AGRICULTURE (agric.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with growing crops and nursery stock; raising and caring for livestock, poultry and other animals; and providing related agricultural services. Activities concerned with veterinary services are designated Professional and Technical Services, n.e.c.

AIR AND SPACE-CRAFT MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (air & space-craft)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing aerospace vehicles, parts, engines and accessories. Activities concerned with manufacturing electrical components are designated Electrical Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing; manufacturing electronic components are designated Electronic Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing.

AIR TRANSPORT (air trans.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with transporting passengers and cargo by aircraft; servicing aircraft; and operating airports, flying schools and clubs and support facilities. Activities concerned with repairing aircraft, engines, components and accessories are designated Air and Space-Craft Manufacturing and Repairing.

AMUSEMENT AND RECREATION (amuse. & rec.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing amusement and recreation facilities or services such as playgrounds, rinks, racetracks, swimming pools, health and athletic clubs, and community centres; presenting or participating in entertainment such as motion pictures, theatre performances and athletic games or contests; and preparing, training and conditioning participants.

ANIMAL AND VEGETABLE OIL EXTRACTING (animal & veg. oil)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing vegetable, animal and fish oils and by-products, such as linseed oil, bone and fish meal.

ANY INDUSTRY (any ind.)

This designation is applied to activities that are common to four or more industry designations. Some activities of this type might logically be designated "any industry" but are allocated to other specific designations such as "clerical", "machining, welding and forging" or "woodworking". In many cases the "any industry" activities of the workers involved, for example those in material handling, are exactly the same from industry to industry.

ASBESTOS AND MINERAL WOOL PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (asbestos & min. wool)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing mineral wool from non-metallic materials such as limestone, slag and glass; and manufacturing building materials and other commodities primarily composed of asbestos.

ASPHALT ROOFING MANUFACTURING (asphalt roof.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing asphalt saturated shingles and sidings, roofing felts and sheathings, and smooth-surfaced and mineral-surfaced roll roofings.

BAKERY PRODUCTS (bake. prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing biscuits, bread, cakes, crackers, pastries, pretzels and other bakery products. Activities concerned with distributing and selling bakery products are designated Wholesale Trade or Retail Trade.

BANKING AND FINANCE (bank. & finance)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing financial services in banks, mortgage and loan companies or similar savings or credit institutions; investment companies; security and commodity exchanges and other financial institutions.

BROADCASTING, MOTION PICTURE AND STAGE PRODUCTION (broadcast., motion pic. & stage)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with producing and broadcasting radio and television programs; producing motion pictures and theatre performances; processing motion picture films; and operating radio and television studios. Activities concerned with transmitting and receiving radio and television signals are designated Telecommunications.

BUSINESS SERVICES (bus. serv.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing, for other businesses or individuals, services; such as, auditing, accounting, legal, advertising and data processing; engineering consulting; customs brokerage and management consulting; supplying statistical information; accident prevention associations; security, news clipping, translating and interpreting; collection agencies; public stenography; and telephone answering, mail addressing, blueprinting, lettering and sign painting, and duplicating.

CANNING AND PRESERVING, N.E.C. (can. & preserv., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with canning, freezing, drying and preserving foods, not elsewhere classified; such as, fruits and vegetables and their juice, frozen dinners, soups, jams, jellies, pickles, cider, vinegar and sauces.

CATERING AND LODGING (cater. & lodg.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing and maintaining lodging, dining, beverage and catering services; and operating tourist camps.

CEMENT, STONE AND CLAY PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (cement, stone & clay)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing cement and lime; gypsum, concrete, clay and refractory products; and cutting, shaping and finishing stone for building and other purposes. Activities concerned with using concrete for construction are designated Construction; and quarrying stone is designated Mining and Quarrying.

CHEMICAL MANUFACTURING, N.E.C. (chem., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing chemicals and chemical products, not elsewhere classified, for industrial or domestic use, such as fertilizers, synthetic resins, transparent cellulose film, industrial inorganic chemicals, ingredients for paint, insecticides, germicides, adhesives, deodorants, disinfectants, sweeping compounds, polishes and dry cleaning preparations.

CLERICAL (clerical)

This designation is applied to activities providing clerical services such as bookkeeping, stenography, typing, and record keeping; storing, distributing and accounting for materials; and operating various office machines. Activities of a clerical nature that are peculiar to an individual industry are designated accordingly.

CONFECTIONERY MANUFACTURING (confection.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing candies, chocolates, cocoa products, chewing gum and other confectionery, such as salted nuts, stuffed dates and popcorn.

CONSTRUCTION (construction)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with constructing, remodelling and repairing bridges, dams, airports, piers, buildings, highways, streets, pipelines, railways, canals, locks, sewers, tunnels, and waterworks; and wrecking buildings and other structures.

DAIRY PRODUCTS PROCESSING (dairy)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with pasteurizing and bottling milk; and manufacturing dairy products such as cheese, butter, powdered milk, sherbets and ice cream. Activities concerned with distributing and selling dairy products are designated Wholesale Trade or Retail Trade.

DISTILLING, BREWING AND FERMENTING (distill., brew. & ferment.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing alcoholic beverages and ethyl alcohol whether or not the alcohol is ultimately used to make potable spirits. Activities concerned with methyl, butyl and isopropyl alcohols are designated Chemical Manufacturing, n.e.c.

EDUCATION AND TRAINING (educ.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with imparting knowledge and developing skills in schools, colleges, universities, businesses, and governments; providing related services, such as correspondence courses; and operating libraries, museums, archives and other repositories.

ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (electric. equip.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing equipment such as generators, motors, transformers, panel boards, electrical appliances and devices, telephone and telegraph equipment, lighting equipment, batteries, and electrical supplies used in generating, transmitting, distributing, storing and utilizing electrical energy. Activities concerned with manufacturing electronic equipment are designated Electronic Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing; manufacturing industrial refrigeration and air conditioning equipment are designated Mechanical Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing, n.e.c.; and manufacturing electric wire and cable are designated Wire and Wire Products Manufacturing.

ELECTRIC POWER, GENERATING AND DISTRIBUTING (elec. power)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with generating, transmitting and distributing electricity; and constructing and maintaining lines and equipment. Activities concerned with building hydro electric generating stations, including dams and other heavy construction work, are designated Construction.

ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (electronic equip.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing electronic equipment such as radio and television receivers and transmitters, industrial monitoring and continuous control systems, computers and data processing equipment, power supplies, and electronic test equipment; electronic sub-components such as control panels, printed circuit boards, speakers, antennas and associated wiring and cable harnesses; and manufacturing electronic components such as electron tubes and semi-conductor devices, resistors, capacitors and filters.

EXPLOSIVES AND AMMUNITION MANUFACTURING (explosives)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing explosives, ammunition, solid propellant rocket fuels, fuses, detonating devices, fireworks and flares.

FEED AND FLOUR MILLING (feed & flour mill.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing animal feeds; mixing and grinding grains; and milling flour and meal. Activities concerned with manufacturing breakfast cereals are designated Food and Beverage Processing, n.e.c.

FISHING (fishing)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with catching or gathering fish, shellfish, marine mammals and other forms of marine life, such as sponges and seaweed from the ocean or inland waters; processing sea products on board ship; operating fish hatcheries; and providing fishery inspection and protection services. Activities concerned with canning and preserving fish on shore, are designated Fish Processing.

FISH PROCESSING (fish process.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with canning, freezing, curing or otherwise processing fish, shellfish and marine vegetation. Activities concerned with manufacturing fish oil and meal are designated Animal and Vegetable Oil Extracting.

FOOD AND BEVERAGE PROCESSING, N.E.C. (food & bev., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing baking and cooking ingredients and foods, not elsewhere classified, such as baking powder, flavouring extracts, syrups, malt, starch and its products, jelly powders, yeast, prepared coconut, powdered eggs, health foods, peanut butter, breakfast foods and cereals, coffee, tea, spices, and non-alcoholic beverages. Activities concerned with manufacturing fruit juices and vinegar are designated Canning and Preserving, n.e.c.; and manufacturing sugar syrups are designated Sugar Refining.

FORESTRY AND LOGGING (forest. & log.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with cutting trees and transporting the logs from the forest to further processing or shipping points; operating timber tracts including forest nurseries and reforestation; cultivating Christmas trees; preventing and fighting forest fires; and forest pest control. Activities concerned with growing ornamental trees are designated Agriculture.

FUR GOODS MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (fur goods)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing fur garments, accessories and trimmings. Activities concerned with fur dressing and dyeing are designated Leather Tanning and Fur Dressing and Dyeing.

FURNITURE MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (furn.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing household, office, plant and store furniture; upholstery; and manufacturing mattresses and springs. Activities concerned with the manufacture of stone furniture are designated Cement, Stone and Clay Products Manufacturing.

GARMENT AND FABRIC MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (garment & fabric)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing, dressmaking, tailoring and repairing adults' and children's clothing including foundation garments, hats, caps and gloves and other fabric products such as sheets, draperies and canvas goods. Activities concerned with manufacturing knit gloves and other knit goods are designated Knit Goods Manufacturing; and manufacturing fur garments and accessories are designated Fur Goods Manufacturing and Repairing.

GLASS AND GLASS PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (glass)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing glass and glass products. Activities concerned with grinding and polishing optical lenses are designated Scientific and Industrial Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing, n.e.c.; spinning glass yarns are designated Synthetic Fibres Manufacturing; and weaving glass fabrics are designated Textile Manufacturing.

GOVERNMENT SERVICES (gov. serv.)

This designation is applied to activities primarily concerned with governmental activities at federal, provincial or municipal level which are not covered by other designations.

HUNTING AND TRAPPING (hunt. & trap.)

DEFINITIONS OF INDUSTRY DESIGNATIONS

This designation is applied to activities concerned with hunting and trapping wild animals for commercial purposes; and game propagation and related activities. Activities concerned with catching marine mammals are designated Fishing.

INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE (insur. & real estate)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with underwriting and selling insurance contracts; adjusting insurance claims; and appraising, developing, buying, selling, renting and managing real property.

IRON AND STEEL PROCESSING (iron & steel)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with processing iron ore; manufacturing pig iron and ferro-alloys, steel ingots, and iron or steel castings; rolling steel into sheets; and forming other shapes, including welded and seamless steel pipe and tubing.

JEWELLERY AND PRECIOUS METAL PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (jewellery & precious metal prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing articles from precious metals; lapidary work; cutting, polishing and mounting precious stones; plating with precious metals; engraving; and manufacturing costume jewellery.

KNIT GOODS MANUFACTURING (knit goods)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing knitted tubular or flat fabrics and shaped garments such as outerwear, underwear, gloves and hosiery. Activities concerned with manufacturing other garments are designated Garment and Fabric Manufacturing and Repairing.

LAUNDERING, CLEANING AND PRESSING (laund., clean. & press.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with laundering, dry cleaning, dyeing and pressing clothing and furnishings; and providing towel, coat, uniform and linen supply services.

LEATHER TANNING, AND FUR DRESSING AND DYEING (leather tan. & fur dress.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with tanning, scraping, currying, bleaching, dyeing and finishing hides, pelts, leather and furs.

LINOLEUM AND ALLIED PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (linoleum prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing linoleum, printed felt-base rugs and asphalt, rubber, cork and vinyl tile, and other hard surface floor coverings. Activities concerned with manufacturing other rubber flooring are designated Rubber Products Manufacturing.

LUGGAGE, HANDBAG AND SMALL LEATHER GOODS MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (leather goods)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing products made of leather or other materials, not elsewhere classified, such as luggage, handbags, saddlery, small leather goods and similar products. Activities concerned with manufacturing leather gloves are designated Garment and Fabric Manufacturing and Repairing.

MACHINING, WELDING AND FORGING (mach., weld. & forg.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with machining, welding, forging and heat treating metal, except those considered peculiar to a specific industry which are designated accordingly.

MECHANICAL EQUIPMENT MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING, N.E.C. (mech. equip., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing refrigeration and air conditioning equipment; industrial, railway and marine engines; office machinery; and other mechanical equipment and machinery, not elsewhere classified, used in such industries as, agriculture, construction, printing, food processing and manufacturing. Activities concerned with manufacturing cutting tools for power driven hand tools and machines are designated Metal Fabricating, n.e.c.

MEDICAL SERVICES (medical)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing medical, dental, and hospital care and related services to people. Activities concerned with providing custodial or domiciliary care are designated Social Welfare Services; optician services are designated Retail Trade; and dental laboratory services are designated Scientific and Industrial Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing, n.e.c.

METAL FABRICATING, N.E.C. (metal fab., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing hardware, tools, cutlery, heating equipment, weapons, locks, vaults, metal machinery fittings and springs, and other miscellaneous metal products not elsewhere classified. Activities concerned with manufacturing heating equipment from steel plate are designated Structural, Plate and Ornamental Metal Working.

METAL STAMPING, PRESSING AND COATING (metal stamp., press. & coat.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing sheet, stamped, pressed or coated metal products; and with electroplating, except with precious metals. Activities concerned with sheet metal work in building construction are designated Construction; and plating with precious metals are designated Jewellery and Precious Metal Products Manufacturing and Repairing.

MILITARY (military)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with military service in the Canadian Forces.

MINING AND QUARRYING (mining & quarrying)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with prospecting for, and extracting minerals by underground and surface excavation; quarrying and crushing rock; primary processing of non-metallic ores; extracting and screening sand and gravel; extracting and refining salt or potash; and drilling water wells. Activities concerned with drilling and operating petroleum and gas wells are designated Oil and Natural Gas Production.

MISCELLANEOUS PRODUCTS FABRICATING, N.E.C. (misc. prod. fab., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing miscellaneous items, not elsewhere classified, such as brooms and brushes, window shades, advertising signs, musical instruments, beauty and barber shop equipment, umbrellas, tobacco pipes, art goods, buckles, candles, rubber and metal stamps, pens, pencils, and artists' materials. Activities concerned with sign painting and lettering are designated Business Services.

MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES (misc. serv.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with services provided by labour, trade, business, professional and other membership organizations representing groups of employees, employers, trades or professions; political, fraternal, social and community organizations; portrait and commercial photography; film processing; disinfecting and exterminating services; and equipment rental agencies and auctioneering. Activities concerned with motor vehicle rental are designated Motor Vehicle Transport; and processing motion picture films for theatre and television use are designated Broadcasting, Motion Picture and Stage Production.

DEFINITIONS OF INDUSTRY DESIGNATIONS

MOTOR VEHICLE MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (motor vehicle)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing, rebuilding and repairing motor vehicles, snowmobiles, freight trailers, mobile homes, vehicle parts, engines and accessories.

MOTOR VEHICLE TRANSPORT (motor trans.)

This designation is applied to public or private company activities concerned with transporting freight and passengers by truck, bus, taxi or hired motor vehicles; and operating terminals, parking lots and garages for the dispatching and storage of motor vehicles.

NON-FERROUS METAL PROCESSING (non-ferrous metal)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with dressing, smelting and refining non-ferrous metallic ores; making non-ferrous metal alloys; processing non-ferrous metals into bars, extrusions, plate, foil, powders, sheets, tubing, castings and other forms; and with recovering non-ferrous materials from scrap.

NON-METALLIC MINERAL PRODUCTS

MANUFACTURING, N.E.C. (non-metal, min. prod., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing non-metallic mineral products, not elsewhere classified, such as primary abrasive materials; abrasive grinding wheels, stones, paper and cloths; buffing and polishing wheels; mica products; and expanded vermiculite and roofing granules. Activities concerned with manufacturing petroleum and coal products are designated Petroleum and Coal Products Manufacturing; and manufacturing asbestos products are designated Asbestos and Mineral Wool Products Manufacturing.

OIL AND NATURAL GAS PRODUCTION (oil & nat. gas)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with prospecting for petroleum or natural gas deposits; drilling petroleum or natural gas wells; processing natural gas; producing petroleum from surface or shale sands; and providing services to operate petroleum and natural gas fields.

PAINT AND VARNISH MANUFACTURING (paint & varn.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing paints, varnishes, lacquers, enamels, shellac and associated materials, such as putty, filler and oil stain.

PAPER PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (paper prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing paper products from paper and wood pulp derivatives or in combination with materials such as synthetics or foils.

PERSONAL SERVICES, N.E.C. (pers. serv., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities, not elsewhere classified; concerned with barbering, hairdressing, beautician, undertaking, domestic and related services; shoeshining; steam baths; guiding and escorting; babysitting services; renting clothes; and checking parcels and clothes.

PETROLEUM AND COAL PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (petrol. & coal prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with refining crude petroleum and producing petroleum products; blending lubricating oils and greases; and manufacturing petroleum and coal products such as fuel briquettes, coke, coal gas, road emulsions and roofing compounds.

PHARMACEUTICALS, MEDICINES AND TOILETRIES MANUFACTURING (pharm. & toil.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing pharmaceuticals and medicines including antibiotics, biological products, and veterinary medicines; and toiletries such as perfumes, cosmetics, lotions, toothpastes and hair dressings.

PLASTIC PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (plastic prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with moulding, extruding and fabricating plastic products, articles or parts. Activities concerned with manufacturing vinyl floor coverings are designated Linoleum and Allied Products Manufacturing.

PRINTING AND PUBLISHING (print. & pub.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with commercial or job printing, lithographing, blankbook making, and bookbinding; and publishing books, periodicals or newspapers. Activities concerned with providing blueprinting and duplicating services are designated Business Services. Printing activities, such as those concerned with printing patterns, designs or lettering on cloth and other materials, or stamping or making items, are designated according to the product or service.

PROFESSIONAL AND TECHNICAL SERVICES,

N.E.C. (prof. & tech., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing professional and technical services, not elsewhere classified, which occur in several industries. Professional and technical activities that are peculiar to a particular industry are designated accordingly.

PULP AND PAPER MANUFACTURING (pulp & paper)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing pulp by mechanical or chemical means; production of paper and paperboard made from either woodpulp or rags; and with barking pulpwood. Activities concerned with manufacturing paper products are designated Paper Products Manufacturing.

RAIL TRANSPORT (rail trans.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with transporting passengers and freight by railroad or urban rail transport; operating railway terminals; maintaining tracks and lines; and providing other support facilities and allied services, such as dining-car facilities and policing of railway properties. Activities concerned with repairing railway rolling stock are designated Railway Rolling Stock Manufacturing and Repairing; and railway construction are designated Construction.

RAILWAY ROLLING STOCK MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (rail. rolling stock)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing locomotives, railway cars and electric urban passenger vehicles. Activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing engines for locomotives are designated Mechanical Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing, n.e.c.

RELIGION (religion)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing spiritual and moral guidance. Supporting activities are designated according to their principal function.

RETAIL TRADE (ret. trade)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with buying merchandise and selling to the general public for personal or household consumption.

RUBBER PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (rubber)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing a variety of rubber products including tires and tubes, re-treaded tires, rubber footwear, rubberized fabrics and rubber flooring. Activities concerned with manufacturing synthetic rubber are designated Chemical Manufacturing, n.e.c.; manufacturing rubberized clothing are designated Garment and Fabric Manufacturing and Repairing; and manufacturing rubber tile are designated Linoleum and Allied Products Manufacturing.

SAWMILL (sawmill)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with sawing logs and producing rough and dressed lumber and other products, such as shingles, and cooperage and box stock. Activities concerned with barking of pulpwood are designated Pulp and Paper Manufacturing; and making barrels are designated Woodworking.

SCIENTIFIC AND INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING, N.E.C. (scient. & ind. equip., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing scientific, professional and industrial instruments, apparatus and equipment, not elsewhere classified, including optical instruments, ophthalmic goods and photographic equipment; surgical, medical, and dental apparatus; prosthetic devices; mechanical measuring and controlling instruments; and clocks, watches and timers.

SHIP AND BOAT BUILDING AND REPAIRING (ship & boat bldg.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with building and repairing ships, barges and lighters; and small craft such as power boats, sail boats and canoes. Activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing marine engines are designated Mechanical Equipment Manufacturing and Repairing, n.e.c.

SHOE MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (shoes)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing footwear. Activities concerned with manufacturing rubber footwear are designated Rubber Products Manufacturing.

SLAUGHTERING AND MEAT PACKING (slaught. & meat pack.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with operating abattoirs, and meat and poultry packing plants; butchering; and canning and preparing meats and meat specialties. Activities concerned with making synthetic sausage casings are designated Plastic Products Manufacturing; and producing animal fats and oils are designated Animal and Vegetable Oil Extracting.

SOAP AND CLEANING COMPOUNDS MANUFACTURING (soap)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing soap, synthetic detergents, cleansers, laundry bleaches, bluing, and washing, scouring and cleaning compounds. Activities concerned with manufacturing sweeping compounds and polishes are designated Chemical Manufacturing, n.e.c.

SOCIAL WELFARE SERVICES (social wel.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with providing custodial or domiciliary care in establishments, such as convalescent and rest homes, orphanages, and homes for the aged; providing social welfare services such as those available from children's aid societies and other welfare organizations for the ill, handicapped, young, aged and indigent. Activities concerned with providing custodial or domiciliary care for criminals or delinquents are designated Government Services.

SPORTING GOODS AND TOY MANUFACTURING AND REPAIRING (sport. & toy)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing and repairing sporting goods such as bicycles, fishing tackle, and equipment used in golf, tennis, hockey, baseball, football and other sports; and toys of all kinds.

STORAGE AND WAREHOUSING, N.E.C. (storage, n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with operating grain elevators, and cold storage, warehouse and other storage facilities, not elsewhere classified. Activities concerned with storage of motor vehicles are designated Motor Vehicle Transport; warehouse and storage facilities related to a specific industry are designated accordingly.

STRUCTURAL, PLATE AND ORNAMENTAL METAL WORKING (struct., plate & ornam. metal)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with fabricating structural, plate and ornamental metal for such use as heating and power boilers, tanks, structural metal work for bridges and buildings, fire escapes, metal doors and windows. Activities concerned with erecting and repairing structural, plate and ornamental products are designated Construction; and manufacturing cast iron heating equipment are designated Metal Fabricating, n.e.c.

SUGAR REFINING (sugar)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing cane and beet sugar, sugar syrups, molasses and by-products, such as beet pulp for cattle feed and soil conditioners. Activities concerned with manufacturing corn, maple or other syrups are designated Food and Beverage Processing, n.e.c.

SYNTHETIC FIBRES MANUFACTURING (syn. fibres)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with manufacturing textile fibres, such as those made from cellulose, synthetics or glass. Activities concerned with producing basic synthetic materials in forms such as liquids, chips, powders and flakes are designated Chemical Manufacturing, n.e.c.

TELECOMMUNICATIONS (telecom.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with transmitting and receiving signals by telephone, teletype, telegraph, wireless or other means; and constructing and maintaining lines and equipment.

TEXTILE MANUFACTURING (textile)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with converting natural and synthetic fibres into cloth; and manufacturing yarn, sewing thread, rope, batting, webbing, canvas, felt, carpeting, oilcloth and other fabrics. Activities concerned with manufacturing rubberized fabric are designated Rubber Products Manufacturing; manufacturing synthetic fibres are designated Synthetic Fibres Manufacturing; and manufacturing linoleum are designated Linoleum and Allied Products Manufacturing.

TOBACCO PROCESSING (tobacco)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with final grading, re-drying, aging and packing tobacco leaf and in manufacturing cigarettes, cigars, tobacco and snuff. Activities concerned with growing and primary processing of tobacco are designated Agriculture.

TRANSPORT, N.E.C. (trans., n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with transportation and transportation services, not elsewhere classified, such as operating hovercraft; operating pipelines; driving animal drawn vehicles; and operating agencies to provide services to companies or individuals for travel, shipping, packing and crating.

UTILITIES, N.E.C. (utilities, n.e.c.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with producing and distributing steam; distributing natural or manufactured gas; disposing of garbage and sewage; and operating utilities, not elsewhere classified, such as those that provide for heat, refrigeration and air conditioning.

VENEER AND PLYWOOD MANUFACTURING (veneer & plywood)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with slicing and peeling wood blocks and logs to form veneer sheets, and assembling and gluing sheets to form plywood.

WATER TRANSPORT (water trans.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with transporting cargo and passengers by ships or other craft; operating water transport facilities, such as docks and canals; and supporting services, such as stevedoring, piloting and salvaging. Activities concerned with operating lighthouses are designated Government Services; and repairing marine craft are designated Ship and Boat Building and Repairing.

WATER WORKS (water works)

DEFINITIONS OF INDUSTRY DESIGNATIONS

This designation is applied to activities concerned with processing and distributing water for household, industrial, irrigation and other purposes.

WHOLESALE TRADE (whole. trade)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with buying and/or selling merchandise to retailers, and industrial, commercial or institutional users and other bulk purchasers; or acting as agent in connection with such transactions, or as an employee of a manufacturing establishment.

WIRE AND WIRE PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING (wire prod.)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with drawing metal through dies to produce wire; manufacturing products made from wire such as nails, screws, fencing, chains, cables and other products made from wire; and manufacturing all types of electrical wire and cable.

WOODWORKING (woodworking)

This designation is applied to activities concerned with woodworking and related processing including seasoning and preserving wood; making hardboard, particle board, shaped wooden articles, handles, ladders, barrels, boxes, sash and doors; and repairing similar products. Activities concerned with sawing rough lumber from logs and producing sawmill products are designated Sawmill; manufacturing veneer and plywood are designated Veneer and Plywood Manufacturing; manufacturing furniture are designated Furniture Manufacturing and Repairing.

APPENDICES SECTION

APPENDIX A

General Education Development (GED)

The following is a table explaining the various levels of general educational development:

Level	Reasoning Development	Mathematical Development	Language Development
6	Apply principles of logical or scientific thinking to a wide range of intellectual and practical problems. Deal with non-verbal symbolism (formulas, scientific equations, graphs, musical notes, etc.) in its most difficult phases. Deal with a variety of abstract and concrete variables. Apprehend the most abstruse classes of concepts.	Apply knowledge of advanced mathematical and statistical techniques such as differential and integral calculus, factor analysis, and probability determination, or work with a wide variety of theoretical mathematical concepts and make original applications of mathematical procedures, as in empirical and differential equations.	Comprehension and expression of a level to -Report, write, or edit articles for such publications as newspapers, magazines, and technical or scientific journals. Prepare and draw up deeds, leases, wills, mortgages, and contracts. -Prepare and deliver lectures on politics, economics, education, or science. -Interview, counsel, or advise such people as students, clients, or patients, in such matters as welfare eligibility, vocational rehabilitation, mental hygiene or marital relations. -Evaluate engineering technical data to design buildings and bridges.
5	Apply principles of logical or scientific thinking to define problems, collect data, establish facts, and draw valid conclusions. Interpret an extensive variety of technical instructions, in books, manuals, and mathematical or diagrammatic form. Deal with several abstract and concrete variables.
4	Apply principles of rational systems to solve practical problems and deal with a variety of concrete variables in situations where only limited standardization exists. Examples of "principles of rational systems" are: Book-keeping, internal combustion engines, electric wiring systems, house building, nursing, farm management, ship sailing. Interpret a variety of instructions furnished in written, oral, diagrammatic, or schedule form.	Perform ordinary arithmetic, algebraic, and geometric procedures in standard, practical applications.	Comprehension and expression of a level to -Transcribe dictation, make appointments for executives and handle their personal mail, interview and screen people wishing to speak to them, and write routine correspondence on own initiative. -Interview job applicants to determine work best suited for their abilities and experience, and contact employers to interest them in services of agency. -Interpret technical manuals as well as drawings and specifications, such as layouts, blueprints, and schematics.
3	Apply common sense understanding to carry out instructions furnished in written, oral, or diagrammatic form. Deal with problems involving several concrete variables in or from standardized situations.	Make arithmetic calculations involving fractions, decimals and percentages.	Comprehension and expression of a level to -File, post, and mail such material as forms, cheques, receipts, and bills. -Copy data from one record to another, fill in report forms, and type all work from rough draft or corrected copy.
2	Apply common sense understanding to carry out detailed but uninvolved written or oral instructions. Deal with problems involving a few concrete variables in or from standardized situations.	Use arithmetic to add, subtract, multiply, and divide whole numbers.	-Interview members of household to obtain such information as age, occupation, and number of children, to be used as data for surveys, or economic studies. -Guide people on tours through historical or public buildings, describing such features as size, value, and points of interest.
1	Apply common sense understanding to carry out simple one- or two-step instructions. Deal with standardized situations with occasional or no variables in or from these situations encountered on the job.	Perform simple addition and subtraction, reading and copying of figures, or counting and recording.	Comprehension and expression of a level to -Learn job duties from oral instructions or demonstration. -Write identifying information, such as name and address of customer, weight, number, or type of product, on tags, or slips. -Request orally, or in writing, such supplies as linen, soap, or work materials.

APPENDIX B

Specific Vocational Preparation (SVP)

Specific vocational preparation includes training given in any of the following forms:

a. University or College Training:

Training given by a degree granting institution and for which a degree, diploma, or certificate is issued. The average four-year university or college curriculum (except for liberal arts which is not vocationally oriented) is considered as equivalent to about two years of specific vocational preparation. Each year of university graduate schooling is regarded as one year of specific vocational preparation.

b. Vocational Training:

Training given by a vocational school or a non-degree granting college intended to develop general or specific skills, such as commercial, shop, or art training. In evaluating vocational training of this nature, thirty hours of such schooling is regarded as about fifteen hours of specific vocational preparation.

c. Apprenticeship:

Training given for an apprenticeable occupation.

d. In-Plant Training:

Training given or sponsored by employers either on or off their own premises, intended as preparation for a specific job in their plant.

e. On-The-Job Training:

Any training acquired while serving as a learner or trainee on the job under instruction of a qualified worker, and intended as preparation for a specific job.

f. Experience in Other Jobs:

Experience acquired while serving in less responsible jobs, or serving in other jobs, which prepares a worker for a specific job at a higher grade.

ESTIMATING THE LEVEL OF SPECIFIC VOCATIONAL PREPARATION

The following is an explanation of the various levels of specific vocational preparation:

Level	Time	Level	Time
1	Short demonstration only.	5	Over 6 months up to and including 1 year.
2	Anything beyond short demonstration up to and including 30 days.	6	Over 1 year up to and including 2 years.
3	Over 30 days up to and including 3 months.	7	Over 2 years up to and including 4 years.
4	Over 3 months up to and including 6 months.	8	Over 4 years up to and including 10 years.
		9	Over 10 years.

APPENDIX C

Environmental Conditions (EC)

Environmental Conditions are defined as the physical surroundings of a worker in a specific occupation.

1. Work Location (inside, outside, or both): This factor appears as an initial (I, O, or B) on an occupational description.

Inside (I): Protection from weather conditions but not necessarily from temperature changes. An occupation is considered “inside” if the workers spend approximately 75 per cent or more of their time inside.

Outside (O): No effective protection from weather. An occupation is considered “outside” if the workers spend approximately 75 per cent or more of their time outside.

Both (B): Inside and outside. An occupation is considered “both” if the workers’ activities occur inside and outside in approximately equal amounts.

2. Extremes of Cold Plus Temperature Changes:

a. Extremes of Cold: Temperature sufficiently low to cause marked bodily discomfort unless the worker is provided with exceptional protection.

b. Temperature Changes: Variations in temperature which are sufficiently marked and abrupt to cause noticeable bodily reactions.

3. Extremes of Heat Plus Temperature Changes:

a. Extremes of Heat: Temperature sufficiently high to cause marked bodily discomfort unless the worker is provided with exceptional protection.

b. Temperature Changes: Same as 2.b.

Note: Occupations are not rated for EC: 2 (Extremes of Cold) or EC: 3 (Extremes of Heat) on the basis of atmospheric conditions alone. It is taken for granted that a country with our climate, workers will occasionally be subjected to extremes of both cold and heat.

4. Wet and/or Humid: Contact with water or other liquids, and/or atmospheric conditions with moisture content sufficiently high to cause marked bodily discomfort.
5. Noise and/or Vibration: Sufficient noise, either constant or intermittent, to cause marked distraction or possible injury to the sense of hearing.
6. Hazards: Situations in which the individual is exposed to the definite risk of bodily injury.
7. Atmospheric Conditions: Fumes, odours, toxic conditions, dust, and poor ventilation.

Fumes: Smoky or vaporous exhalations, usually odorous, thrown off as the result of combustion or chemical reaction.

Odours: Noxious smells, either toxic or non-toxic.

Toxic Conditions: Exposure to toxic dust, fumes, gases, vapours, mists, or liquids which cause general or localized disabling conditions as a result of inhalation or action on the skin.

Dust: Air filled with small particles of any kind, such as textile dust, flour, wood, leather or feathers, and inorganic dust including silica and asbestos, which make the workplace unpleasant or are the source of occupational diseases.

APPENDIX D

Physical Activities (PA)

Physical Activities express both the physical requirements of the occupation and the physical capacities a worker must have to meet these requirements. The presence or absence of Physical Activities factors in a CCDO occupational definition is not to be misconstrued as indicating that the physically handicapped can or cannot perform the duties of that occupation.

- 1 - Strength (Sedentary, Light, Medium, Heavy, Very Heavy Work): This factor appears as an initial (S, L, M, H, or VH) in an occupational description.

Sedentary Work (S): Lifting 10 lbs. maximum and occasionally lifting and/or carrying such articles as docket, ledgers, and small tools. Although a sedentary occupation is defined as one which involves sitting, a certain amount of walking and standing is often necessary in carrying out some duties. Occupations are sedentary if walking and standing are required only occasionally and other sedentary criteria are met.

Light Work (L): Lifting 20 lbs. maximum with frequent lifting and/or carrying of objects weighing up to 10 lbs. Even though the weight lifted may be only a negligible amount, an occupation is in this category (a) when it requires walking or standing to a significant degree, or (b) when it involves sitting most of the time with a degree of pushing and pulling of arm and/or leg controls.

Medium Work (M): Lifting 50 lbs. maximum with frequent lifting and/or carrying of objects weighing up to 20 lbs. Consideration of (b) under "light work" may apply here.

Heavy Work (H): Lifting 100 lbs. maximum with frequent lifting and/or carrying of objects weighing up to 50 lbs.

Very Heavy Work (VH): Lifting objects in excess of 100 lbs. with frequent lifting and/or carrying of objects weighing 50 lbs. or more.

Note: The descriptions given for the five degrees of Factor 1 make reference to the terms "Lifting, Carrying, Pushing, and Pulling". These four terms are the primary "strength" physical requirements, and generally speaking, a worker who is engaged in one of these activities can be engaged in all. These activities can be defined as follows:

Lifting: Raising or lowering an object from one level to another (includes upward pulling).

Carrying: Transporting an object, usually holding it in the hands or arms or on the shoulder.

Pushing: Exerting force upon an object so that the object moves away from the force (includes slapping, striking, kicking, and treadle actions).

Pulling: Exerting force upon an object so that the object moves toward the force (includes jerking).

- 2 - Climbing and/or Balancing: For climbing, the emphasis is placed upon body agility; for balancing, it is placed upon body equilibrium.

Climbing: Ascending or descending ladders, stairs, scaffolding, ramps, poles, ropes, and the like, using the feet and legs and/or hands and arms.

Balancing: Maintaining body equilibrium to prevent falling when walking, standing, crouching, or running on narrow, slippery, or erratically moving surfaces; or maintaining body equilibrium when performing gymnastic feats.

- 3 - Body Dexterity: The skill and ease in using body members.

Stooping: Bending the body downward and forward by bending the spine at the waist.

Kneeling: Bending the legs at the knees to come to rest on the knee or knees.

Crouching: Bending the body downward and forward by bending the legs and spine.

Crawling: Moving about on the hands and knees or hands and feet.

- 4 - Reaching, Handling, Fingering, and/or Feeling: These activities involve the use of one or both the upper extremities.

Reaching Above Shoulder: Extending the hands and arms in any direction above the shoulder.

Reaching Below Shoulder: Extending the hands and arms in any direction below the shoulder.

Handling: Seizing, holding, grasping, turning, or otherwise working with the hand or hands (fingering not involved).

Fingering: Picking, pinching, or otherwise working primarily with the fingers (rather than with the whole hand or arm as in handling).

Feeling: Perceiving such attributes of objects and materials as size, shape, temperature, or texture, by means of receptors in the skin, particularly those of the finger-tips.

- 5 - Talking: Expressing or exchanging ideas by means of the spoken word. Talking is important for those activities in which the individual must impart oral information to clients or to the public, and in those activities in which he must convey detailed or important instructions to other employees accurately, loudly, or quickly.

- 6 - Hearing: Perceiving the nature of sounds by the ear. Hearing is important for those activities which require the ability to receive detailed information through oral communication, or to make fine discriminations in sound.

- 7 - Seeing: Obtaining impressions through the eyes of the shape, size, distance, motion, colour, or other characteristics of objects. For CCDO purposes, Normal Vision is assumed. An occupation is rated for PA: 7 - (Seeing) only when there is a significant requirement for one or more of the following component factors:

Acuity, Far: Clarity of vision at 20 feet or more.

Acuity, Near: Clarity of vision at 20 inches or less.

Depth Perception: Three-dimensional vision. The ability to judge distance and space relationships so as to see objects where and as they actually are.

Accommodation: Adjustment of the lens of the eye to bring an object into focus. This component factor is especially important when doing near-point work at varying distances from the eye.

Colour Vision: The ability to identify and distinguish colours.

Field of Vision: The area that can be seen up and down, or to the right or left, while the eyes are fixed on a given point.

- 8 - Controls: Operating machinery requiring the use of body members and eye-hand-foot co-ordination.

Hand-Arm: Controlling the operation of machinery using only hand(s) and arm(s).

Foot-Leg: Controlling the operation of machinery using only the leg(s) and one or both feet.

Eye-Hand-Foot Co-ordination: Controlling the operation of machinery requiring the co-ordination of movement of the hand and foot with each other in accordance with visual stimuli.

APPENDIX E

Worker Functions in Relation to Data, People and Things (DPT)

The various kinds of functions are identified and defined on the following pages. They appear in three groups arranged in each instance from the relatively simple to the more complex at the top in such a manner that each successive function attempts to include those that are simpler and exclude the more complex. As each of the functions listed in the following table may represent a range of complexity, and because of the limited number of functions in each group, their arrangement should not be considered as precisely hierarchical. For these reasons, the CCDO exercises caution in their use as verb forms in occupational descriptions.

The three broad categories of functional relationships to Data, People, and Things are as follows:

DATA (1st digit)	PEOPLE (2nd digit)	THINGS (3rd digit)
0 Synthesizing	0 Mentoring	0 Setting-Up
1 Co-ordinating	1 Negotiating	1 Precision Working
2 Analyzing	2 Instructing	2 Operating-Controlling
3 Compiling	3 Supervising	3 Driving-Operating
4 Computing	4 Diverting	4 Manipulating-Operating
5 Copying	5 Persuading	5 Tending
6 Comparing	6 Speaking-Signaling	6 Feeding-Offbearing
7 *	7 Serving	7 Handling
8 No Significant Relationship	8 No Significant Relationship	8 No Significant Relationship

DATA: Information, knowledge, and conceptions related to Data, People and Things, obtained by observation, investigation, interpretation, visualization and mental creation; incapable of being touched. Written data take the form of numbers, words and symbols; other data are ideas, concepts and oral verbalization.

0 Synthesizing: Integrating analyses of data to discover facts and/or develop knowledge, concepts or interpretations.

1 Co-ordinating: Determining time, place, and sequence of operations or action to be taken on the basis of analysis of data; executing determinations and/or reporting on events.

2 Analyzing: Examining and evaluating data. Presenting alternative action in relation to the evaluation is frequently involved.

3 Compiling: Accumulating information which is usually recorded physically, but which may be stored mentally; gathering, collating, or classifying information about Data, People and Things. Reporting and/or carrying out a prescribed action in relation to the information is frequently involved.

4 Computing: Performing arithmetic operations and reporting on and/or carrying out prescribed action in relation to them. Does not include counting.

5 Copying: Transcribing, entering, or posting data.

6 Comparing: Understanding the readily observable functional, structural, or compositional characteristics (whether similar to or divergent from obvious standards) of Data, People, and Things.

7 * The functional digit 7 is not used in the Data Table in the CCDO.

8 No Significant Relationship

PEOPLE: Human beings; also includes animals dealt with on an individual basis.

0 Mentoring: Dealing with individuals in terms of their total personality in order to advise, counsel and/or guide them with regard to problems that may be resolved by legal, scientific, clinical, spiritual and/or other professional principles.

1 Negotiating: Exchanging ideas, information and opinions with others to formulate policies and programs and/or arrive jointly at decisions, conclusions or solutions.

2 Instructing: Teaching subject matter to others or training others (including animals) through explanation, demonstration and supervised practice; or making recommendations on the basis of technical disciplines.

3 Supervising: Determining or interpreting work procedures for a group of workers, assigning specific duties to them, maintaining harmonious relations among them and promoting efficiency.

4 Diverting: Entertaining others.

5 Persuading: Influencing others in favour of a product, service, or point of view.

6 Speaking-Signaling: Talking with and/or signaling people to convey or exchange information. Includes giving assignments and/or directions to helpers or assistants, but excludes ordinary conversation.

7 Serving: Attending to the needs or requests of people or animals, or the expressed or implicit wishes of people. Immediate response is involved.

8 No Significant Relationship

THINGS: Inanimate objects as distinguished from human beings; substances or materials; machines, tools, or equipment; products. A thing is tangible and has shape, form, and other physical characteristics.

0 Setting Up: Adjusting machines or equipment by replacing or altering tools, jigs, fixtures and attachments to prepare them to perform their functions, change their performance, or restore their proper functioning if they break down. Workers who set up one or a number of machines for other workers or who set up and personally operate a variety of machines are included here.

1 Precision Working: Using body members and/or tools or work aids to work, move, guide or place objects or materials in situations where ultimate responsibility for the attainment of standards occurs and selection of appropriate tools, objects, or materials, and the adjustment of the tool to the task require exercise of considerable judgement.

2 Operating-Controlling: Starting, stopping, controlling and adjusting the progress of machines or equipment designed to fabricate and/or process objects or materials. Operating machines involves setting up the machine and adjusting the machine or material as the work progresses. Controlling equipment involves observing gauges, dials and other indicators, and turning valves and other devices to control such factors as temperature, pressure, flow of liquids, speed of pumps, and reactions of materials. Set-up involves several variables and adjustment is more frequent than in tending.

3 Driving-Operating: Starting, stopping and controlling the actions of machines or equipment for which a course must be steered or which must be guided, in order to fabricate, process, and/or move things or people. Involves such activities as observing gauges and dials; estimating distances and determining speed and direction of other objects; turning cranks and wheels; pushing clutches or brakes; and pushing or pulling gear shifts or levers. Includes such machines as cranes, conveyor systems, tractors, furnace-charging machines, paving machines and hoisting machines. Excludes manually-powered machines, such as handtrucks and dollies, and power-assisted machines, such as electric wheelbarrows and handtrucks.

4 Manipulating-Operating: Using body members, tools, or special devices to work, move, guide, or place objects or materials requiring the use of hand tools or special devices. Requires a significant combination of eye-hand co-ordination, and manual and finger dexterity. Involves some latitude for judgement with regard to precision attained and selection of appropriate tool, object or material, although this is readily manifest.

5 Tending: Starting, stopping, and observing the functioning of machines and equipment. Involves adjusting materials or controls of the machine, such as changing guides, adjusting timers and temperature gauges, turning valves to allow flow of materials and flipping switches in response to lights. Little judgement is involved in making these adjustments.

6 Feeding-Offbearing: Inserting, throwing, dumping, or placing materials in or removing them from machines or equipment which are automatic or tended or operated by other workers.

7 Handling: Using body members, hand tools and/or special devices to work, move, or carry objects or materials. Involves little or no latitude for judgement with regard to attainment of standards or in selecting appropriate tool, object or material.

APPENDIX F

Aptitude Factors and Definitions

- G. Intelligence: General learning ability. The ability to “catch on” or understand instructions and underlying principles. Ability to reason and make judgements.
- V. Verbal: Ability to understand meanings of words and ideas associated with them, and to use them effectively. To comprehend language, to understand relationship between words and to understand meanings of whole sentences and paragraphs. To present information or ideas clearly.
- N. Numerical: Ability to carry out arithmetic processes quickly and accurately.
- S. Spatial: Ability to think, visually of geometric forms and to comprehend the two-dimensional representation of three-dimensional objects. The ability to recognize the relationships resulting from the movement of objects, in space. May be used in such tasks as blueprint reading and in solving geometry problems. Frequently described as the ability to “visualize” objects of two or three dimensions, or to think visually of geometric forms.
- P. Form Perception: Ability to perceive pertinent detail in objects, or in pictorial or graphic material. To make visual comparisons and discriminations and see slight differences in shapes and shadings of figures and widths and lengths of lines.
- Q. Clerical Perception: Ability to perceive pertinent detail in verbal or tabular material. To observe differences in copy, to proofread words and numbers, and to avoid perceptual errors in arithmetic computation.
- K. Motor Co-ordination: Ability to co-ordinate eyes and hands or fingers rapidly and accurately in making precise movements with speed. Ability to make a movement response accurately and quickly.
- F. Finger Dexterity: Ability to move the fingers, and manipulate small objects with the fingers, rapidly or accurately.
- M. Manual Dexterity: Ability to move the hands easily and skillfully. To work with the hands in placing and turning motions.
- E. Eye-Hand-Foot Co-ordination: Ability to move the hand and foot co-ordinately with each other in accordance with visual stimuli. (Not measured by GATB).
- C. Colour Discrimination: Ability to perceive or recognize similarities or differences in colours, or in shades or other values of the same colour. To identify a particular colour, or to recognize harmonious or contrasting colour combinations, or to match colours accurately. (Not measured by GATB).

Interest Factors and Definitions

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1. Dealing with things and objects. | vs. 6. Dealing with people and communicating ideas. |
| 2. Business contact with people. | vs. 7. Scientific and technical work. |
| 3. Routine, concrete and organized work. | vs. 8. Abstract and creative work or experiences. |
| 4. Working for people for their presumed good as in the social welfare sense, or for dealing with people and language in social situations. | vs. 9. Non-social work, carried on in relation to processes, machines, and techniques. |
| 5. Work resulting in prestige or the esteem of others. | vs. 0. Work leading to satisfaction from tangible results. |

Temperament Factors and Definitions

- I. A variety of duties often characterized by frequent change.
2. Repetitive or short-cycle operations carried out according to set procedures or sequences.
3. Doing things only under specific instructions, allowing little or no room for independent action or judgement in working out job problems.
4. The direction, control, and planning of an entire activity or the activities of others.
5. Dealing with people in actual job duties, beyond giving and receiving instructions.
6. Working alone and apart in physical isolation from others, although activity may be integrated with that of others.
7. Influencing people in their opinions, attitudes, or judgements about ideas or things.
8. Performing adequately under stress when confronted with the critical or unexpected or taking risks.
9. The evaluation (arriving at generalizations, judgements, or decisions) of information against sensory or judgemental criteria.
0. The evaluation (arriving at generalizations, judgements, or decisions) of information against measurable or verifiable criteria.
- X. The interpretation of feelings, ideas, or facts in terms of personal viewpoint.
- Y. The precise attainment of set limits, tolerances, or standards.

It must be remembered that none of the qualification profile factors (aptitudes, interests, temperaments) are absolute: they must not be regarded as cut-off points governing the acceptance or rejection of an individual as being a suitable candidate for a particular occupation.
